KING'S SPEECH IS CRITICIZED

Conservative Member for Cowichan-Newcastle Says Speech From Throne Was Barren Document

SAW SIMILARITY TO ELECTION PROPAGANDA

Attacks Government Distribution Plan Which Combines the Constituencies of Cowichan and Newcastle

THE secret of the smooth familiarity of Mr. C. F. Davies, Conservative member for Cowichan-Newcastle, was explained yesterday when, in commencing his address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, he said that his father had been the Premier responsible for starting the building of the assembly hall in which he stood. His father's act had thus insured the choice of Victoria as the Capital City of British Columbia.

Mr. Davies, in fine parliamentary style for a new member, tendered the customary congratulations to Mr. Speaker, to Mr. Colley, of Kamloops, and Dr. Wrinch, of Skeena, in reply to the Speech from the Throne, respectively; to Premier Oliver; Mr. R. H. Pooley, Conservative leader, and to other members of the House. His congratulations to the Labor members afforded opportunity for expression of regret that he had been obliged to oppose Sam Guthrie, former member for Newcastle, at the last election, thereby leading up to a condemnation of the combining of Cowichan and Newcastle in one riding, a proceeding without justification, he claimed, but designed with the obvious purpose of eliminating one of two members opposed to the Government.

The Speech from the Throne, he declared, was a barren document, failing to fulfill its constitutional function of informing the assembly why it had been summoned together. Only the freight rates question and the proposed timber royalty and anti-forest rancor bill, out of twenty-one subjects, were mentioned. Some within the proper confines of such a document, he alleged.

Mr. Davies lamented the absence of the Minister of Agriculture, in the House in regard to the beer bill, the P.G.E., aid to farmers, provision

TO LAY PLANS FOR CIVIC ELECTIONS

YOUNG MEN'S PARTY TO HOLD MEETING TODAY

Expect Announcement of Candidature of Messrs. J. B. Clearhue and M. P. Blair This Morning

Plans for the election of Mr. J. Carl Penderay, majority candidate at the forthcoming December election, and for the nomination of a businessman's ticket for the Aldermen, were expected to be completed at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce this morning.

It is considered practically certain that Mr. J. B. Clearhue and Mr. M. P. Blair will announce their intention of running for alderman at this morning's gathering. Mr. Penderay, who is expected to be a candidate for the majority, one for the aldermanic board, one for school trustees, and one for police commissioner.

Mr. John Dean, whose name was mentioned in connection with the ex-service men's determination to become a factor in the municipal elections, will not be a candidate for any office, he told the chamber last night.

Miss Sarah Spencer has declined the request of the Local Council of Women that she run for school trustee.

MONTREAL, Nov. 5.—Mary Serafini, widow of Giuseppe Serafini, the hanged Banque d'Hecla bandit, will appear in the Court of King's Bench on November 7 to face two charges—murder and one of receiving in connection with the hold-up for which her husband was sentenced to death.

R. L. Chidley, K.C., crown prosecutor, will make a statement on her case on that date, and also in that of Adam Parillo, who is faced with the same charges as Mrs. Serafini.

Epidemic Under Control

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5.—The epidemic of pneumonia plague, which has taken a toll of twenty-five lives in the Mexican quarter, here since October 18, was declared tonight to be virtually under control. MR. HON. A. MEIGHEN

CONSERVATIVE CHIEF SPEAKING TOMORROW

Hon. Mr. Meighen, Dr. Toimie and Mr. Pooley to Address Mass Meeting at Pantages Theatre

Tomorrow night, for the first time in four years, Victorians will have an opportunity of listening to a speech by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Dominion leader of the Conservative party. Together with Dr. S. P. Toimie, organizer for the party in the Federal field, and Mr. R. H. Pooley, leader of the British Columbia Conservatives, Hon. Mr. Meighen will address a mass meeting of the local Conservatives and citizens in general at the Pantages Theatre at eight o'clock. The proceedings will be broadcast about the Coast by Fletcher Bros' plant.

Hon. Mr. Meighen paid his last visit to Victoria not long before the last Dominion election. On that occasion he spoke to mass gatherings in the Royal Victoria Theatre and at the Empress Hotel on the same evening. After speaking here tomorrow night, the Conservative leader and his companions will proceed to Vancouver, where they will speak at a banquet arranged by the Vancouver Liberal-Conservative Association at the Hotel Vancouver Saturday night.

TRADES COUNCIL ASKS MR. MANSON'S REMOVAL

Vancouver Leaders Condemn Alleged Selection of Personal Friend for Eight-Hour Day Board

VANCOUVER, Nov. 5.—A strongly worded resolution against Hon. A. M. Manson retaining the office of Provincial Minister of Labor was unanimously passed at the regular Trades and Labor Council meeting Tuesday night and was ordered sent to all branches of the organization throughout the Province for approval.

The matter has arisen out of the appointment of a railway man, Mr. H. A. J. Manson, as a member of the eight-hour day board.

Mr. J. B. Clearhue and Mr. M. P. Blair will announce their intention of running for alderman at this morning's gathering.

Will Seek Creation of Medical Appeal Board

Sensational Appeal of Injured Man Stirs Trades and Labor Council to Press for Creation of Tribunal at Which Independent Doctors Could Test Medical Opinions From Workmen's Compensation Board—Delegate Scores Commissioner Parker Williams

THE sensational appeal of Mr. John Hall for aid in his fight for justice from the Workmen's Compensation Board stirred the Trades and Labor Council last night to a decision to press for the creation by the Legislature of a medical appeal tribunal before which the opinion of the Compensation Board could be tested by independent doctors.

Delegates to the council were deeply moved by Mr. Hall's relation of the alleged injustice he had suffered at the hands of the board.

He had sustained his injuries, Mr. Hall told the council, in a fall down the hold of a vessel being fitted out for the Imperial Munitions Board at Ogden Point, in 1913. He still suffered from those injuries, his ankle had not healed properly, his spine had not healed at all. And yet, though practically six years since the accident, he had been unable to secure the compensation due him.

On orders from the nurse at Ogden Point, he had been rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital immediately after

ISLAND TO ASK BETTER ROADS

Communities Will Send Delegation to B.C. Government Urging Hard Surfacing of Main Highways

DECISION REACHED AT DUNCAN MEETING

Delegates From Victoria to Courtenay and Alberni Discuss Common Problems at Enthusiastic Meeting

DUNCAN, Nov. 5.—(Special)—A strong delegation from all parts of Vancouver Island will interview the Government of the Province with a comprehensive scheme for hard-surfacing the main roads on the Island, it was decided at a splendid gathering held here tonight by delegates of all boards of trade and similar organizations from one end of the Island to the other.

The meeting decided to function as the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, with Dr. D. E. Kerr, of Duncan, president of that body, in the chair. Over sixty delegates were present, including C. H. Dickie, M.P., A. Lyons, M.P.P., and C. F. Davies, M.P.P. Hon. William Sloan had been invited to be present, but regretted his inability to attend. Other Island members of the Legislature also regretted their enforced absence.

The feeling was generally expressed that there was every reason to feel that the Government would meet the delegates in a co-operative spirit. When an appointment is made with the Government, the various centres will be acquainted with the fact, and delegates will be sent to Victoria from all outside points.

Several other matters were brought up at the meeting, but it was decided that it would be wisest to concentrate for the time being on the road question as the most important to be dealt with.

Nanaimo Port

J. H. Good, president of the Nanaimo Board of Trade, urged the Associated Boards to endorse a move on the part of Nanaimo to secure terminal freight rates. It was decided, however, to leave this matter in the hands of the executive, after Mr. J. W. C. Burns, of Nanaimo, had pointed out the difficulties involved.

Mr. P. W. Schwengers, Victoria, pointed out that Victoria had such rates because it was a port of call for ocean liners in world trade.

C. P. Hill was called upon to address, and made an enthusiastic speech praising the unanimous action taken by the meeting.

Following the meeting, Duncan Board of Trade entertained the visitors at a banquet.

Early in the proceedings a discussion took place as to the best method of carrying on the business represented by the municipal boards, and president of the Nanaimo Board, moved in favor of functioning as the Associated Boards.

Delegate Cunliffe, of Nanaimo, advocated a system of pooling expenses connected with meetings, so that all parts of the Island could be represented.

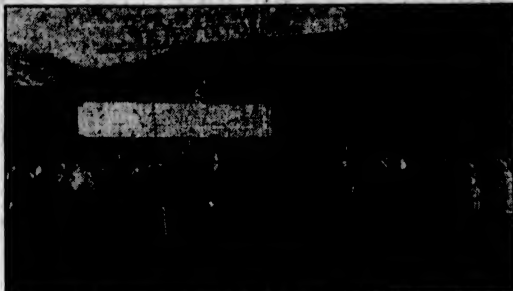

Mr. Schwengers felt that money had to be available to carry on, Victoria would do his share.

Island Side-Track

Mr. Schwengers said that the Government had not had it brought home that the Island was not receiving its just consideration. Duncan contributed $200,000 yearly to the Province and got little back. Port Renfrew gave $100,000 and got nothing. The same applied to other points. United action only would bring results. He suggested a canvass of the heads of different sections, saying interesting facts would be revealed.

Acting on this suggestion, delegates Continued on Page 11

THE FUNERAL OF PETER VERGEIN
Cortege leaving the home of the Doukhobor leader at Brilliant, B. C.

VERGEIN was one of nine persons killed when a coach of the C. P. R. train from Nelson was wrecked up at Fernie last Sunday. Led by Doukhobor leader, who was among those killed, a crowd of Doukhobors numbering five thousand yesterday surrounded at Brilliant a special train carrying the coroner's jury and officials, shouting: "We want Peter Vergein back. You can bring him back. It has been done before. Bring him back." The demonstrators finally dispersed, after being assured by the provincial police that everything possible was being done to discover the cause of the tragedy.

WOMEN WITH FLOWERS WATCH PROCESSION

Arrangements for the annual memorial parade and service were completed by the Armistice Period committee, which met in special session last night. Veterans of the Great War and previous campaigns, whether or not members of any of the ex-service men's organizations in the city, as well as citizens of Victoria, are invited to participate in the memorial ceremonies on Sunday.

The parade, which will be marshalled by Regimental Sergeant-Major Frank Hatcher, will assemble at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Carnegie library, corner of Yates and Blanshard streets, and will move off promptly at 2:30. The procession to the Parliament Buildings will be via Taylor Douglas, Fort and Government streets.

Six bands, namely, the Fifth Regiment, the 16th Canadian Scottish brass and pipe band, the Salvation Army, the Fire Brigade and Victoria Juvenile pipe bands, will take part in the parade. A detachment from the Royal Canadian Navy, boy scouts, school cadets, girl guides and ex-service men will be in the procession.

The memorial service will take place at Parliament Square at 2 o'clock and, in the event of rain, will be held in Christ Church Memorial Hall. The I.O.O.F. standard bearers will be present, and the officiating clergyman who has been invited to take part in the service include the Very Rev. Dean Quinlan, Captain the Rev. Dr. John Campbell, the Bishop of Victoria, and Major the Rev. J. H. White. The service will be brief in character and an appropriate address will be given.

Ex-service men of Victoria are requested to join in paying tribute to the glorious dead, and are asked to wear decorations and uniforms.

REVEE HEWLETT WILL NOT STAND

OAK BAY'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE TO RETIRE FROM POST

Decides Not to Seek Re-election—Most of 1924 Council Likely to Be in Field Again

Reeve Harold F. Hewlett, of Oak Bay, announced to The Colonist yesterday that he had definitely decided not to offer himself for re-election as the chief executive of the municipality.

This announcement is the first expressed intention of any of the heads of the municipalities adjoining the City of Victoria as to whether they intend seeking re-election at the forthcoming municipal contests.

Reeve Hewlett has been in municipal life in Oak Bay for the past five years, first serving three consecutive terms as a member of the Municipal Council, while he has been chief executive of the municipality during the past two years. He was elected to the reeve ship by acclamation in 1922, succeeding ex-Reeve Samuel J. Drake, to that post. At the last municipal election, Reeve Hewlett was again returned by acclamation.

In declaring his decision not to enter the field at the coming election, Reeve Hewlett voiced his personal belief that a reeve should not seek to preside for more than two successive years. He is of the opinion that the duties of the chief executive is a good thing, and that the introduction and presence of a new personnel, with new ideas and suggestions, results in greater progress often being achieved.

No announcement has yet been made by the Oak Bay Councilors as to whether they will stand for re-election. Councilors Means, Taylor, Streetfield, Ancombe and Edwards are all serving their first year on the Council, and he is expected that the majority of them will be found in the running for the Council posts at election time.

Members of the School Board and Police Commission of Oak Bay have not yet announced their intentions as to their attitude concerning running again, but it is expected that they will be made as the day of election draws near.

COOLIDGE CABINET CHANGES FORECAST

WASHINGTON EXPECTS SEVERAL MEMBERS TO DROP OUT

President's Private Secretary Only Name So Far Mentioned as Certain to Retire

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Several changes are expected in the administration personnel when President Coolidge takes the oath of office next March 4. There have been definite indications that certain officers likely to be dropped from the cabinet are, including some Cabinet members.

About the first break expected in the Coolidge family is the resignation of C. H. Stimson, secretary to the President. Mr. Stimson has played an important part in the campaign, as well as handling the duties of his office, and he is said to want a rest.

Free to Select Own Cabinet

Mr. Coolidge will be free to select his own Cabinet for his full term. Those members who desire to leave are expected to communicate their wishes formally to him before next March. The resignations of Cabinet officers are always in the hands of the President, and although these may be formally presented by them at any time, Mr. Coolidge is expected to reiterate the declaration he made upon assuming office on the death of President Harding, that no resignations be tendered now.

PRESIDENT HAS BIG MAJORITY

Republican Nominee Is Likely to Have Over One Hundred Votes to Spare in Electoral College

GIVES LARGEST POPULAR PLURALITY IN HISTORY

Senator La Follette's Following Confined to Thirteen Representatives From State of Wisconsin

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The full measure of the Republican victory at the polls has not yet been taken tonight, but the returns continued to show that President Coolidge would have at least a hundred votes to spare in the electoral college and the largest popular plurality in history.

The showing made by John W. Davis remained unchanged throughout today, and although Senator La Follette began to creep up a little in one or two western states, there was no certainty tonight that he would receive the electoral vote of any state group except that of Wisconsin.

Majority in Both Houses

On the face of the day's congressional returns the Republicans made certain of a paper majority at least in both Senate and House, but doubt remained whether the margin would be great enough to give the administration the whiphand over the opposition.

ALDERMAN ACCUSED IN MONTREAL PROBE

WITNESSES TELL OF ALLEGED BOAST AS TO POLICE

Statement as to Receipt of $5,000 of Stolen Money Denied by Friend of Executed Murderer

MONTREAL, Nov. 5.—That Alderman Monaghan, of St. John's Ward, had declared in the presence of several citizens that it was useless to denounce an alleged disorderly house on Prince Arthur Street because the place was well protected, and that he said he had received $5,000 from the holdup of the Bank of Hecla, collection car for which four murderers were hanged, and that he predicted that one of the executed murderers, ex-Detective Louis Morel, would be freed and would eventually return to the Montreal police force, was the testimony of several witnesses heard by Justice Codrington, investigating the alleged case of Alderman Monaghan.

The alderman himself denied ever having spoken of police protection with regard to the Prince Arthur Street house, though he termed it a "rendezvous." Later on Ald. Monaghan admitted that Louis Morel had worked for him in the last civic elections, and he told the court that he had assisted Morel to secure bail at one time on an automobile-by-law accusation. That he declared, had merely been a service he would render any one.

UNITED STATES IS ARRAIGNED

Trotzky Bitterly Attacks the Alleged Militarism and Capitalism of Republic Which Menaces World

HAS HALF HORSE POWER AND WORLD GOLD SUPPLY

"Red Czar" Declares the Great War Was Fought to Prove America Superior to Great Britain

MOSCOW, Nov. 5.—War Minister Trotzky, in a speech concerning the aims of the Red army today, bitterly arraigned United States militarism and capitalism, which, he declared, were being developed into forces of annihilation.

"The United States is assuming a place in the arena of militarism far beyond the dreams of Balkanized Europe," he declared. "The United States possesses half the horsepower of the universe and more than half of the world's gold."

Arguing that the World War was fought mainly to gain the superiority of the United States over Great Britain and Great Britain's superiority over France, the War Minister continued:

"American industrial and gold power is being transformed into the steam of American militarism. American capitalism has reached the limit of its power in home markets and is compelled to seek expansion abroad. This being impossible by economic means, the United States will be forced to overthrow European countries by military power. American militarism is raising its head above the rest of the world as an advancing, destructive power—the power of a bloody coup d'etat."

"America will try and foment trouble abroad to make European and Asiatic states fight against each other, while American capitalism finances them as a commercial enterprise. No matter who is elected President, American militarism will continue to grow as high as a mountain. World Bolshevism is the real obstacle in its path."

ACCUSES ROADS OF BURKING INQUIRY

COUNSEL FOR B.C. PROTESTS TO RAILWAY BOARD

Declares Neither C.P.R. Nor C.N.R. Produce Evidence Required as to Freight Rate Problem

VANCOUVER, Nov. 5.—An attempt on the part of W. J. Langman, C.P.R. freight traffic manager, to halt the hearing of the Railway Board, in Vancouver, on a technical point, decision of Hon. H. A. McKenna, C.E.C., and Frank Oliver, commissioners, to carry on with the taking of evidence; presentation of testimony by grain and shipping men to show the discrimination under which the western route is laboring, and cross-examination of George Stevens, assistant freight traffic manager on western lines for the C.P.R., by G. D. McLean, K.C., counsel for British Columbia, featured this afternoon's session of the board here.

Mr. McKenna's Lack of Patience

Repeatedly failing to secure from the representatives of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways statistical information which he considered should be easily available, Mr. McKenna lost patience and charged the railways with a policy of coming to all such hearings without necessary data.

Addressing himself to Mr. Langman when that official had informed him that the set returns of the C.P.R. on lines east and west per ton mile and per train mile in 1923 were not available, and never had been available, Mr. McKenna said: "You come out here to meet an inquiry and you can't give us any information. It is always the same at these hearings—you can never give us any information that is vital to the case. I think it is high time, Mr. Chairman, that a halt was called to it."

Chief Commissioner McKenna was not distinctly heard but was understood to say, as he nodded, that a halt would be called and that Mr. McKenna's application for the information was upheld.

REPUBLICAN STANDING IN BOTH HOUSES NOT DECIDED

Returns From 390 Congressional Districts Leaves Parties' Strength Uncertain

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Delayed returns gave the Republicans the best of it today in the upset in both the House and Senate. But it appeared that the initial reports from all districts would be necessary before there could be a determination whether President Coolidge would expect a real working majority in the next Congress.

Returns from 390 of the 435 congressional districts gave the Republicans an actual majority—213—but in this total are included nearly a score of the La Follette insurgents. Democrats maintain had made certain of 175 seats and the Farmer-Labor party of two.

On the basis of these returns the Republicans had made a net gain of

ADVANCE POLLS ARE SUGGESTED

Colonel Lister Would Eliminate Present System of Absentee Voting in Favor of Early Voting Privilege

ENDORSES REDUCTION IN TIMBER ROYALTIES

Records Objection to Spending Millions on Tourist Highways Until Settlers' Roads Are Given Improvements

GREATER consideration for those engaged in the mining, agricultural and lumbering industries was urged yesterday by Col. Fred Lister, Conservative member for Creston, in the debate on the reply to the Speech from the Throne. The old type of prospector was fast becoming obsolete, he declared, because people with capital would not look at his properties owing to failure on the part of the Government to provide trails into country of proven mineral worth.

He promised his support to the proposed timber royalty legislation, providing it offered a substantial reduction in royalties, which was sadly needed in the interior, where, he declared, the industry was stagnant. Stimulating that industry would help the farmers, he contended, by enabling them to sell their produce to the mills and camps and by enabling them to obtain work in the off season for agriculture.

Absentee Votes
Substitution of advance polls for legitimate absentee voters at election times instead of the present absentee vote system was urged on the ground that 80 per cent of those voting as absentees at the last election had had plenty of time to change their registration if they had desired. Col. Lister said it was unfair to spend millions on tourist highways until the settlers' roads were improved. In his riding the road was bad that 25 per cent of the fruit was spoiled in transit to the railways for shipment. To Mr. J. R. Colley's approval of the policy of the Land Settlement Board in lending loans to farmers only for new development, Col. Lister replied that this might be all right, only the board was not leaving any loan at that, he said, it was more important to keep the old-timers on the ground than to advance money to newcomers of unproven worth.

Speaks for Veterans
Col. Lister made another of his eloquent pleas in behalf of the soldier settlers at Creston, urging the Government to write down the loans charged against their lands to the present-day value of the properties, forgetting the actual cost, which he said, in a considerable proportion, was "water stock." By reducing the loans to a business basis it would be possible for the remaining settlers to develop their properties and stay in the country as productive citizens.

He also urged amendment of the School Act to enable the Government to combine several local school districts into one high school district, so that the cost of the high schools would be evenly distributed. The present voluntary provision, he said, was ineffective, he said, and poor settlers had to pay $50 a year to have their children attend high school.

FAILS TO DISCOVER GREAT PROSPERITY

GOVERNMENT POLICY MUST BE CHANGED, SAYS MEMBER

Urges Encouragement by Government of Mining Industry in Eastern Sections of Province

Prosperity, the spirit of which permeated the addresses given in the House by Mr. Colley and Dr. Winch on Tuesday, was not visible to his right, according to Mr. N. A. Wallinger, Conservative member for Cranbrook, who took part yesterday in the debate on the Speech from the Throne. "I have failed to see the reason for so much optimism," he added. "Prosperity does not exist in British Columbia as it once did, and I see no chance of a change if the Government carries on in the future as it has in the past."

Mr. Wallinger recorded his objection to the Timber Royalty Act, and urged that a downward revision be made. Relative to agriculture, he contended that the industry had been in a steadily declining state, and that conditions now were much more serious than they were ten years ago. In the Cranbrook Valley there was room for fifty or twenty thousand settlers. At present only about seven hundred were located there.

Mining Development
Mining formed the major portion of the Cranbrook member's speech. He believed that a great future existed in mining throughout the eastern sections of British Columbia, but the Government would not try to take steps to encourage the industry. A prospector had not been seen in the Cranbrook district for a good many years, he declared, and a new discovery of silver-lead ore, which was the principal mineralization, had not been made for twelve years. He reviewed the possibilities of development, and the effect of such action upon the general prosperity of the province. Cranbrook contained, he said, the largest silver-lead mine in the world, and from it alone, a large payroll was distributed.

The Session

Cooking the Opposition Goose—Silent Coons May Come Down—Davie of Cowichan—Newcastle—And Bruhn of Salmon Arm—The Drums Ecclesiastic.

The Press Gallery, Wednesday.

Outline of a strategy conceived by the Government, loomed hastily through the mist of debate today. Friends of the Government speak of it as mastery. It will cook the Opposition goose, they say; and, even better than that, it will go down well in the country. The country, it seems, hungers and thirsts for peace, retrenchment and reform, and the greatest of these, the country is thought to hold, is retrenchment. Wherefore it appears that the Government, having duly done its part by moving and seconding the loyal motion in reply to the Speech from the Throne, will take no further part in that debate until the Opposition, and particularly the leader of the Opposition, has talked itself and himself out. Then, so the Government as discussed in the lobbies goes—the Premier is to come down heavily upon all this carping criticism. He is to exhibit the world-wide picture of the country, anyhow—the picture of a Government so responsive to the desires of the country, so careful of the welfare of the country, so thoroughly imbued with the notion that the greatest of these is retrenchment, that it will waste no time in decorative debate. And this strategy, it is contended, will put upon the Opposition the odium of protracting unnecessary debate—in short, it will well and truly cook the Opposition goose.

Pursuant to the working of this high strategy, therefore, the tactics of the day revealed themselves into the familiar device of letting the Opposition wear itself out upon a dignified, politely attentive, somewhat precarious, but still outwardly complacent majority. Four members of the Opposition, two of them newcomers, were listened to in reasoned criticism of the King's Speech. A fifth member of the Opposition was permitted to adjourn the debate. No sign was vouchsafed from Government benches that members on that side of the House had more than a mere academic interest in the proceedings. The Government had been pointed to with pride, everything Oppositional had been viewed with alarm, and the greatest of these had been proclaimed to be retrenchment, there was, in short, nothing more to be said.

"They may get away with it, at that," commented the member for Mary Todd Island. "Of course, Mr. Pooley is too old and experienced a parliamentary hand to be taken in by that stuff, which, believe me, is old." The member for Mary Todd Island conceived the obvious line of the Opposition as being to rake the Government's arguments, to demolish and ram it—even if necessary to out-entertain and board it. "I miss my guess," said the hard-bitten member for Mary Todd Island, "in changing his metaphor, if those clowns don't come down before they have been up that tree of silence another two days." The honorable and cynical member was willing to wager that honorable Cabinet Ministers could never maintain the pose of strong, silent men for more than a day and a half, "if they go after them hard enough."

The Premier, usually so sure in all his pronouncements, "revealed himself today as being in the minds on a certain subject. This subject was the power and influence of the newspaper press. An Opposition member had twice spoken of the Premier's reported opinions, subject to the Premier's correction, and had been twice corrected forthwith. The Premier refused to be bought by an Opposition member's statement of his actions or papers unless that statement carried the Premier's signature. Later, however, the Premier consented to agree that there might be much in newspaper criticism of the alleged wasting of time in needless debate on the Speech from the Throne. He was willing to agree that if the Premier could "get away" with his stern refusal to be bound by newspaper statements unless he had signed his name to them, as to the second proposition, there was a measure of agreement with the member for Alhambra, who recorded his opinion that there was more time wasted in every session discussing the desirability of not wasting it than in any other form of activity displayed by the House.

The House, which always responds to the human touch, gave a hearty welcome today to the action of a house honorably remembered in the legislative and judicial history of the Province. Mr. C. F. Davie, Conservative member for Cowichan-Newcastle, rising to open the debate on the "Speech" for the Opposition, received that welcome. Mr. Davie, himself a lawyer, was proud to recall, on the occasion of his maiden speech in that place, that he was the descendant of men who had written their names in his record. The reference was to his uncle, the late Theodore Davie, one-time Premier and Attorney-General, and to his father, the late Alec Davie, one-time Attorney-General. For two rest, the new member, who has the lawyer's style, and who revealed himself as lucid, well-spoken and urbane, reverted in his peroration to what he characterized as the "inequality" of amalgamating the districts of Cowichan and Newcastle, the motive for which, in his opinion, was the pressing necessity of the Government to create two hostile constituencies into one. Mr. Davie gave the last touch to his ironic congratulations to the members opposite by doubling if any of them would be there to be congratulated after the next election.

No less sincere was the welcome given today to another new member, Mr. Rolf W. Bruhn, Conservative member for the newly-made district of Salmon Arm. Mr. Bruhn, a tall Norwegian logger, showed himself singularly competent in the use of a logical power of speech. He pleased the House no less by his directness and modesty than by his brevity. In twenty minutes he managed to convey a striking picture of the needs of the interior farmers and loggers. He said his district was one of the finest, largest and most neglected in the Province; and he made an earnest, apparently effective appeal to the Minister of Public Works for roads to isolated communities where he specified and described. He seasoned his speech with a ready humor, and he disarmed his opponents and tickled his colleagues when, referring to the three members who had preceded him, he said he had listened to the speeches of a doctor, a lawyer and a preacher with a certain dismay for his own inadequacies, and an intense longing for home.

Mr. N. A. Wallinger, Conservative member for Cranbrook, and Col. Fred Lister, Conservative member for Creston, maintained the burden of debate for the rest of the afternoon. Mr. Wallinger makes effective use of a certain gift for quiet sarcasm. Col. Lister thought the King's Speech was

Victoria Bill Is Introduced by Local Member

Victoria's bill, drawn for the purpose of obtaining wider powers for disposing of tax sale property at advantageous opportunities than the Municipal Act allows, was introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Mayor Reginald Hayward, one of the local Conservative members. The Mayor is personally favoring the bill.

Mr. A. O. Cochrane, Conservative member for North Okanagan, introduced a bill on behalf of Vernon, B.C., asking ratification of an extension of the time for payment of taxes, allowed this year contrary to a Municipal Act in order to give fruit growers time to get their crop returns before being called upon to meet their tax bills.

rest, the new member, who has the lawyer's style, and who revealed himself as lucid, well-spoken and urbane, reverted in his peroration to what he characterized as the "inequality" of amalgamating the districts of Cowichan and Newcastle, the motive for which, in his opinion, was the pressing necessity of the Government to create two hostile constituencies into one. Mr. Davie gave the last touch to his ironic congratulations to the members opposite by doubling if any of them would be there to be congratulated after the next election.

No less sincere was the welcome given today to another new member, Mr. Rolf W. Bruhn, Conservative member for the newly-made district of Salmon Arm. Mr. Bruhn, a tall Norwegian logger, showed himself singularly competent in the use of a logical power of speech. He pleased the House no less by his directness and modesty than by his brevity. In twenty minutes he managed to convey a striking picture of the needs of the interior farmers and loggers. He said his district was one of the finest, largest and most neglected in the Province; and he made an earnest, apparently effective appeal to the Minister of Public Works for roads to isolated communities where he specified and described. He seasoned his speech with a ready humor, and he disarmed his opponents and tickled his colleagues when, referring to the three members who had preceded him, he said he had listened to the speeches of a doctor, a lawyer and a preacher with a certain dismay for his own inadequacies, and an intense longing for home.

strangely forgetful in its omission of any announcement that the Government intended to abolish the absentee vote. Government benches were apathetic to this, Opposition ones enthusiastic. The Colonel thought the Government would be better employed and better advised to spend money building trails for prospectors than roads for tourists; and he pleaded, not without some visible signs of sympathy in the Government ranks, for generous treatment to returned soldier settlers who were stranded on their farms, unable to meet the interest on their loans from public funds. The Colonel would like to be an optimist, he said, as he was bidden to be by Government supporters, but he doubted if optimism and hungry bellies went together; and he urged the Government to face the stern economic facts facing the Province.

Portents of possibly lively sessions to come were visible today when Capt. Ian Mackenzie, fourth member (Liberal) for Vancouver City, raised the point of order that the petition for leave to introduce the Church Union Bill was invalid, both because the Presbyterian Church had given no one leave to present such a petition and because, by House of Lords judicial decision in 1904, such legislation was ultra vires of any legislative body in the Empire. Mr. Speaker, no doubt scents the smoke of ecclesiastical battle from afar, took the matter under mature advisement. It was a somewhat nice point, he intimated, and he desired to take counsel upon it. Brigadier-General Odium is in charge of the bill, which would seem already to promise a fight that will cut across party lines.

WOMAN CONFESSES TO KILLING HUSBAND

Cracked Man's Skull and Then Took Sedative Overdose of Carbolic
Acid and Was Revived

EDMONTON, Nov. 5.—A lengthy confession by Koska Kominsky, an elderly woman, charged with murdering her husband, Joseph Kominsky, at Red Water, on June 2, by striking him on the head with a monkey wrench, was placed in evidence by the Crown today in the trial which opened here this morning. Details of the confession were confirmed by the evidence of twelve witnesses.

The murder is alleged to have taken place late at night in the store formerly owned by the deceased at Red Water, as the culmination of a violent quarrel, during which the husband tried to strangle the accused with a cord.

In her confession the woman states that she and her husband had quarreled for twelve years; that he had abused her, beaten her and called her vile names. She states she hit him several times with the wrench, and then drank four ounces of carbolic acid and went into the bush to die, where the police found her. She had taken too much acid.

The taking of evidence was completed this afternoon, and the case will go to the jury tomorrow morning.

For improving the road system, any steps to prevent further depletion of fishery resources, and other public issues.

"It looks more like election propaganda than a speech from the throne," he said.

A Private Issue

Mr. Davis declared that the freight rates question was essentially an issue between private citizens and the railway companies and contended that it was not a proper function of the Government to interfere. If the individual affected were too poor to fight their own battles, it might be all right for the Government to render financial aid, but it was undesirable for the principle of constitutional government for the Government itself to continue to harass vested interests and would tend to discourage private capital from investing in the Province.

If, as Premier Oliver had claimed in his election speeches, his Government had the aid of the Federal administration, it was the Premier's duty to bring about relief by pleading directly with the Governor-General-in-Council, not by arguing before the Railroad Board, he suggested. In this way, he claimed, the Government could have avoided what he described as the gross extravagance of paying $80,000 to G. G. McGee, K.C., as counsel.

Mr. Davis challenged Premier Oliver to fulfill his economy pledge by keeping the cabinet down to seven members and by dispensing with Mr. McGee and his large fees.

"Do you urge that we do not employ Mr. McGee?" asked the Premier.

"Not at the price," replied the opposition member.

Attorney-General Manson contended the $80,000 was mostly for disbursements.

OBITUARIES

LUNEY—Service for the late Mrs. Jeannette Luney was conducted yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the B.C. Funeral Chapel by Rev. Dr. Simpson. There was a very large attendance of friends and many beautiful floral offerings covered the casket and hearse. The hymns sung were "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Rock of Ages." The following gentlemen acted as pallbearers: Messrs. J. Parfitt, J. A. Grant, S. G. Clemence, A. E. Mallett, W. Acton and A. Lee. The remains were laid to rest in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

A Unique Feature for Oshawa's Celebration

OSHAWA, Ont., Nov. 5.—A unique feature in connection with the unveiling of the "garden of the forgotten," Oshawa's war memorial, on Thanksgiving Day, will be the delivery of the oration by Canon Cody, of Toronto, from an improvised platform, which will be a stone two and one-half feet square and one foot thick, which came from a spot near where Grand Duke Ferdinand of Austria was assassinated, which assassination precipitated the Great War.

Member Objects To Church Union Bill in House

The Church Union Bill ran into a snag the second time it was mentioned in the House, when Ian Mackenzie, an adherent of the "Wee Free" Church of Scotland, raised a point of order against acceptance of the petition filed by General V. W. Odium, for leave to introduce that measure. Mr. Mackenzie contended the Presbyterian Church had no legal authority to be a signatory to the petition on the ground that the House of Lords in the Scottish Union litigation ruled that the General Assembly had no power to destroy its charter. Mr. Speaker Buckham reserved his decision.

for Mr. Coolidge's Election

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 5.—D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, today issued the following statement on yesterday's election:

"There is no doubt a victory for the Republican national candidates is attributable to:

"(1) Unprecedented political slush funds.
"(2) Intimidating statements regarding 'Coolidge or Chaos in Industry' broadcast or mailed to practically every American home.
"(3) State laws designed to perpetuate the two old political parties in power, which denied the people the privilege of voting the Progressive ticket in some states and prohibited watchers in other states to see that the Progressive vote was wanted."

Apprehend Crisis Over French Ministers' Speech

PARIS, Nov. 5.—Diplomatic circles apprehend an early crisis in the relations between the French Government and the Vatican, and feel that the final issue has been hastened by the protest made to Premier Herriot yesterday by Mgr. Severino Cerrati, papal nuncio in Paris, against the speech by Francois Albert, Minister of Education, in which the Minister criticized the nuncio's address before the Catholic Institute in 1892.

ELECTION CONTEST IN YALE CLOSES

Campaign in Federal Contest Ended
Last Night With Large Meetings of Both Parties

VERNON, Nov. 5.—The Yale Federal by-election campaign came to an end tonight with meetings held here by both parties. The Liberal meeting was addressed by Colonel Thompson and R. G. MacPherson, of Vancouver, and that of the Conservatives by Senator Barnard, Grote Strirling, Conservative member, and others.

The polls will close tomorrow night at seven, and with bright, frosty weather forecast, a large vote is anticipated. There is every evidence the House contest will be close. The Liberal nominee is Mayor D. Sutherland, of Keweenaw.

sixteen over the Democrats, recaptured by Republicans which were moved over into the Democratic column. At adjournment, last June, the House line-up was: Republicans, 225; Democrats, 207, and three scattered.

In the senatorial contest, the most surprising result was in Iowa, where Smith W. Brookhart, Republican, who publicly repudiated his own national ticket, had conceded his defeat at the hands of Daniel F. Steak, a Democratic lawyer, of Ottumwa. Mr. Steak was generally credited with receiving support from many regular Republicans.

Republicans Gain

The Republicans, however, apparently had gained three senatorial seats on the basis of returns early tonight. These were in Massachusetts, Kentucky and Oklahoma. The Democrats had elected eleven Senators, while seven Republicans had been chosen or had such leads as to make their election practically certain. In the six remaining contests, all in western states, where returns still were coming in slowly, the results were uncertain.

In Minnesota, Representative Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat, prosecutor in the Teapot Dome investigation, was leading the field in Montana, with a sufficient margin to make him reasonably certain of re-election.

Results in Oregon

PORTLAND, Nov. 5.—Oregon gave President Coolidge a vote exceeding the combined vote of Davis and La Follette, according to returns from 1,322 of the state's 1,760 precincts tabulated tonight.

EVERY phonograph has a "horn" of some kind—the technical name for which is "Tone Amplifier".

But the Brunswick alone has a horn which is entirely free from corners or angles and is built ENTIRELY OF WOOD—in all 65 pieces—like a fine violin.

The advantage of this construction is that no obstruction whatever is offered to sound waves, which always travel in curved lines. At the same time the entire absence of metal gives a mellow resonance that is completely free from nasal or metallic harshness.

The more musical your ear, the better you'll like a Brunswick

You can be MUSICAL without being a MUSICIAN. Lots of people, without the least understanding of musical technique, have, nevertheless, a keen appreciation of musical tones. Meighan speaking here Friday, the

which was to be held tomorrow evening at the New Thought

Gaming Case—Charged with keeping a gaming house in the rear of a restaurant on Johnson Street, Wong Ping was fined $100 and $5 costs, and two months in jail, by Police Magistrate Jay yesterday morning. The case was tried a few days before the magistrate had some doubt as to whether the accused was really the principal in the conduct of the house.
Two of those found in the place were fined $15 each. A third was found not guilty, the magistrate feeling that he was present probably for lawful purposes, that of just passing through the place.

Foul Bay Athletics—The Foul Bay Juvenile Athletic Association held its regular weekly meeting yesterday in the club room. After business, plans were discussed for the future of the club and where its new club rooms will be. A luncheon meeting was held, in which Lovel Proby was the winner, the prize being presented by the hon. president.

Home for Aged Women—The monthly meeting of the management of the Aged and Infirm Women's Home was held at the home yesterday afternoon, with the following members of the committee present:
Meadames Carney, Gould, Clay, Wm.
Grant, Vibrent, Lewis, Whittier,
Harold Grant, Rastlton, Heddle,
Miss O'Brien and the president, Mrs.
Clay, presiding. Reports received showed that several of the inmates had been in feeble health recently, also that every room in the building was occupied and the names of a number of applicants on the waiting list. The visiting committee for November is Mrs. Heddle, convener;
Mrs. Wm. Grant and Mrs. Gould.
The following donations were gratefully received in October: St. Paul's

bles; Magistrate Jay, pheasants;
Miss Hayward and Gonzales Chapter,
I.O.O.F., cakes; a friend, box of holopines and vegetables; Pollock Brothers, City Temple, Mrs. Grant and Mrs. Gould, flowers.

Thanksgiving Service—A special Thanksgiving service will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. R. F.
Kibler, pastor of the church, believes that the crying need of British Columbia, and of the Dominion of Canada, is an increased measure of healthy prosperity. He says economic prosperity of clear vision think that prosperity is on its way and is bound to arrive in British Columbia and Victoria. But history teaches, he contends, the sad fact that the height of prosperity often ushers in the doom of a nation. Since blessings are so easily turned into curses, all depending on how they are used, and since men so easily worship the material gift and forget the Giver of all things, a note of warning and instruction ought to be heard by every citizen of the Dominion on this Thanksgiving Day, says Rev. Mr. Kibler, thus fulfilling the will of God, and of the Government, which has proclaimed the day.
Mr. Kibler will speak on the subject:
"Prosperity That Prospers." Special music will be provided for the service.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS RECEIVE APPROVAL

WASHINGTON STATE FAVORS
PRESENT CONDITIONS

Alleged Attempt of Ku Klux Klan to Close Private Educational Institutions Fails

SEATTLE, Nov. 5.—Washington yesterday cast what is estimated to be the heaviest vote in its history when it gave its seven electoral votes to Coolidge and Dawes, and gave dominating leads to every other Republican candidate. With a registration of approximately 600,000, it is believed by political leaders that between 450,000 and 500,000 votes were cast.
Incomplete returns from 1,570 of 2,437 precincts in the state gave Coolidge 151,353, La Follette 103,879, and Davis 28,424. At Republican state headquarters it was predicted that the President's plurality over Senator La Follette would exceed 60,000, but would not equal the flourishing vote of 223,137 polled in 1920.

Governor Hartley's Majority
Ronald H. Hartley, Republican candidate for governor, had even a greater lead over his nearest opponent, Ben Hill, Democrat. Returns from 1,502 precincts, incomplete, gave Hartley 138,097, Hill 75,737, and Farmer-Labor candidate, 20,361.

In the fifth congressional district,
Samuel H. Hill, Democrat, was leading J. Edmund Ferguson, Republican, Hill is the only Democratic representative from this state.

Representatives John P. Miller, in the first district; L. H. Hadley, in the second; Bert Johnson, in the third, and John W. Summers, in the fourth, seem assured of re-election.

A feature of the election was the disapproval of all initiative and referendum measures submitted to the voters. Interest in the measures centred largely in the bill sponsored by the Good Government League, the political arm of the Ku Klux Klan, and which would have compelled parents to send their children to public instead of private and parochial schools. In 1,470 precincts the vote on this measure stood 93,726 for and 114,669 against.

The so-called Bone bill, which would permit municipalities to sell power outside their corporate limits, was defeated in 1,478 precincts by a vote of 12,483 for and 139,579 against.
In 1,461 precincts the vote on the bill to limit the tax levy to 40 mills was 78,896 for and 141,665 against.

REEVE LOCKLEY AND MR. BLANDY OFF TO MAINLAND

Union Executive and Parliamentary Committee Hold Meetings to Prepare Data for Government

The date on which the Union of British Columbia Municipalities will make representations to the Provincial Government in respect to educational taxation and other matters will be decided at a meeting of the executive of the Union today. Reeve Alex. Lockley, of Esquimalt, informed The Colonist last night, previous to leaving on the midnight boat for Vancouver, to attend the executive session in that city.

Reeve Lockley, who was re-elected president of the Union at the recent convention at Penticton, and Mr. R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk of Oak Bay, went over to the Mainland last night to be present today at the Vancouver Property Owners' Association, and the third, to review data that has been prepared to be submitted to the Government.

The executive of the Union will hold three sessions today in Vancouver, the first with members of the Hospital Board, the next with the Vancouver Property Owners' Association, and the third, to review data that has been prepared to be submitted to the Government.

At the Penticton convention of the Union, a parliamentary committee to prepare data and present the claims of the municipalities of the province to the Government was appointed. This committee was divided into three sections, and the Vancouver Island members chosen were Reeve Macneil, of Saanich; Alderman William Marchant, of Victoria; and Clerk Blandy, of Oak Bay. Reeve Macneil and Alderman Marchant are unable to attend today's meeting of the committee on the Mainland, but Reeve Lockley and Clerk Blandy will be present and participate in the preparation of educational data that the Provincial Government will be presented with by the Union.

It is likely that Reeve Lockley and Clerk Blandy will return to the city tomorrow.

THANKSGIVING MEALS LACKING FOR MANY

Friendly Help Association Appeals for Supplies of Vegetables, Jam, Fruit for Needy of City

An appeal on behalf of supplies for Thanksgiving dinners was made at the regular meeting of the Friendly Help Association held at the Market Buildings, on Tuesday afternoon, the president, Miss Sara Spencer, in the chair. Fifteen members were present. The past month, it was reported, had been a very trying one, due to the lack of steady employment. Several very sad cases in genuine need of help were cited, the visitors stating that, the bare necessities of life were lacking in some of the homes. Furthermore, reports showed that the Association funds were completely exhausted, and it was hoped that the public, when apprised of the facts, would respond in its usual generous manner.

Reports of the past month's work showed that 104 families had been assisted, these families representing 387 persons, and further analysis revealed that the figures comprised one widow with children, two widows without children, eight deserted wives with children and one deserted wife without, nine couples, four lone women, nineteen lone men (nearly all of the latter aged men) and two families of orphans.

The Association would be most grateful for cash donations, children's shoes or cash for shoes, as many boys and girls have even to stay at home from school because of lack of footwear. Donations of jam, fruit and vegetables would also be most welcome, particularly before Thanksgiving Day, gifts of the kind may be left at the rooms on Friday and Saturday of this week.

The Association decided at its meeting yesterday that it would take charge of the tagging at the Market Building on Saturday, November 8, for Armistice Day.

The Association acknowledges with grateful thanks the following donations received during the month of October:

One of the prettiest surprise showers of the season was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Marshall on Monday evening in honor of Miss Helena Hurst, whose marriage takes place on November 19. Miss Leona Hunter and Miss Alice Findler carried in the girls engaged in a huge bonbon with purple streamers. Music and cards were enjoyed until midnight when a dainty supper was served, the table being charmingly decorated with bronze colored chrysanthemums and centred with a miniature bride, two maids of honor, two bridesmaids and two train bearers. The guests included: Mrs. Bertucci, Mrs. Fred Francis, Mrs. Wensley, Mrs. Nicol, Mrs. Fred Nicol, Mrs. Donald Robertson, Mrs. Hutton, Mrs. Fletcher, Mrs. Carlton, Mrs. Lillwell, Mrs. Findler, Mrs. John Wright, Mrs. Bert Webster, Mrs. A. From Campbell River

Mr. Charles Thulin, the pioneer of Campbell River (the town, not the stream), arrived here on Monday from the North by motor, and is a guest at the Empress Hotel for a few days. Mr. Thulin, who is the picture of health, has completely recovered from a bout of rheumatism that took him in hand early this Fall. He states that the terrific storm of a few days ago at Campbell River did considerable damage to timber in the huge forests adjacent to the townsite, but that the settlement itself came off scot free, with the exception of "Kama," Provincial Constable Stewart Dawson's launch, which was blown from its moorings at the mouth of Campbell River, but was recovered before any really serious damage was sustained. Mr. Thulin's boat also suffered and is to go to Quatsiki Cove for repairs. Mr. Thulin is returning home tomorrow or the day after.

Nelson, while the chanting was sung by Mrs. S. J. Anderson, and the accompaniments played by Mrs. H. P. Taylor, and "Buying a Gun," presented by Major Bullock-Webster and Mr. Nelson. Accepting a special request the latter duologue will be given in aid of a charity performance on November 14 at the home of Mrs. Jonathan Rogers, Shaughnessy Heights.

Fashions and Foibles

By Shirley Sharon

The long, narrow vest gives much the look of a redingote to a slim little frock of dark green flannel with a grey front.

At eleven in the morning the elegant Parisienne alights from her motor on the Avenue Bois du Boulogne or at the entrance of the Allee des Acacias in the wood itself and walks briskly for an hour before lunch. If she has no luncheon engagement, she wears a grey tailleur, but if she is going to the Ritz and from there to her dressmaker she wears one of the new tailored frocks. The redingote line which one arrives at by way of a long-vest front is smart and makes a very correct costume for the fore and afternoon engagements of a non-social nature.

SECOND DANCE OF SEASON IS HELD

Hudson's Bay Employees' Winter Dances Increasing in Popularity—Over 400 Last Night

The popularity of the Hudson's Bay Company's Employees' Association dances was evinced by the large attendance that marked their second function of the winter series at the Alexandra Hall on Tuesday night.

Over 400 persons attended. This marks an increase of 100 over the last dance. Hunt's five-piece orchestra was in attendance, and the dance numbers rendered were very much appreciated, as was indicated by the number who danced during the entire evening. Delightful refreshments were served and there is no doubt but that everyone thoroughly enjoyed himself. The Association and the committee in charge of the dance are looking forward to an even more successful event next month. The dances take place every first Tuesday of the month with the exception of New Year's, when a dance will be held on the last day of the Old Year. Something in the way of a surprise is in store for those who attend this dance. The committee in charge are already working out the plans for this coming event, and there is no doubt that they will excel themselves in the arrangements in like manner as last night.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Committee of the Protestant Orphanage was held at the Home on Monday.

Two of the children were taken from the care of the Home during the month.

The ladies' committee acknowledged the following donations: St. Paul's Church, St. Alban's Church, St. John's Church, St. Luke's Church, St. Matthew's Church and Grace English L.C., fruit and vegetables; Mrs. McGowan, sack of peas; Mr. Hayward, five sacks of apples; Mr. P. From Parliament Buildings to Penitentiary

In all Canadian history no case has attracted attention like the revelations of the Public Accounts Committee in the Ontario Legislature. Corruption and wrongdoing were discovered and the arm of the law pointed down on the offenders. In the upper left is shown the Parliament Buildings of Ontario at Toronto, where for seventeen years Charles A. Mathews, Jr. (upper right) was employed in the Treasury Department and latterly as Deputy Provincial Treasurer. Peter Smith (lower left) was Provincial Treasurer in the late government. While the Public Accounts Committee was delving into books of the province and announcing startling disclosures, Mathews disappeared. Several months later he was apprehended in California and soon found himself back in Toronto to face a trial on several charges. A jury found him guilty of a breach of the Secret Commission Act and also of receiving "gifts." He is now in the Toronto jail (lower right) waiting to be taken to Penitentiary to commence a two-year term. Peter Smith was found guilty of conspiracy to defraud the province in certain bond deals and will soon commence a three-year term in the same institution. The cases are being appealed.

Friday night, which promises to be very successful. As only a limited number of tickets could be sold for the affair, and as all have been disposed of, ticketholders only will be admitted.

Teamsters Continue to Win Wednesday Soccer

Score Fourth Consecutive Victory in Midweek Football—Defeat Services by Five to Two Score at Work Point Barracks—Hudson's Bays and Tilliams Came at Royal Athletic Park Results in Two-All Draw

THE Teamsters soccer eleven continued their winning streak in the Wednesday League football yesterday afternoon at Work Point Barracks, when they took the United Services into camp by a score of five to two.

The Hudson's Bay-Tilliams match, in the same league, played at the Royal Athletic Park, resulted in a two-all draw at the end of full time. Both matches produced the best soccer that has been played by the mid-week teams, and a fair crowd was in attendance at each of the games.

By winning yesterday, the Teamsters have set a record that has not been equaled in Wednesday League soccer for some time. Out of four starts they have had four consecutive victories.

Fast Football
The Teamsters-Services match at Work Point during the first half was a fast exhibition of football. Both teams were anxious to win the game and this advance into the lead, and some snappy play by both teams featured this half. The drivers went into the lead about five minutes after the start, but the Services came back strong and scored two goals by fast work on the part of their forward division. Their lead, however, was short.

Five minutes after the start of the match the Teamsters, through a combined rush on the part of their forward line, were rewarded with a score from the trusty toe of Frank Tupperman. This big fellow led the attack from near the centre of the field and made no mistake with his shot, placing it well into the corner of the net. From the face-off the Services came back strong, and Kennedy put the teams on even terms with a hot shot that had Hatherfield beaten all the way.

Score by Pooock
Play at this period of the game was fast, and both teams were showing some fine soccer. Pooock, on the other hand, showed a splendid forward rush, put the Services in the lead when he scored with a well-placed kick to the mark. Their lead was very short in duration, as Davis, the fleet forward of the drivers, secured the ball immediately after the face-off and tied the score with a well-placed kick to the corner of the net. Just before the whistle blew for time he again moved into the line-up by putting his team one up with a splendid goal from a difficult angle.

In the second half play was distinctly in favor of the Teamsters. From the start they rushed their opponents and had the ball in their territory most of the period. Jeffries, the clever youngster of the drivers who filled the centre forward position, made things stronger for his side when he outwitted the defence of the Services and scored with a neat low shot. Hawkes, about ten minutes later, put the game on ice when he added the fifth after a splendid piece of combination work which included the whole attacking line.

For the Teamsters, Davis, Jeffries, Hawkes and Beak turned in fine games, while Temple, "Red" Hawkes and Robinson played stoutly for the Services. Alcock refereed the game.

Bays and Tilliams
The game between the Hudson's Bay and Tilliams at the Royal Athletic Park was a hard-fought one throughout, ending in a two-all draw. In the first period the Tilliams were the aggressors, but the whist went with a one-goal lead in favor of the Bays. On resuming play the Tilliams showed much better shooting and tied the count a few minutes after the start. Play continued even for some time, and towards the end of the same each team added a counter, and

TIGERS WILL PLAY EXHIBITION GAMES

Will Show Their Wares in Eastern Canada—Open League Against Cougars at Winnipeg

CALGARY, Nov. 5.—Calgary Tigers, Western Canada hockey champions, will play four exhibition games in Eastern Canada prior to their opening game against the Victoria Cougars at Winnipeg on December 8. The exhibition series includes games at Toronto on November 22, at Ottawa, November 24 and 26, and at Montreal, November 27.

Because of the early start, President Fred Johnston today advised members of the team to assemble at Winnipeg in time to commence training there on November 12.

The local management advised that they have valued on Carson Cooper, the Ontario amateur, who is on Saskatchewan's reserve list.

One-Sided Terms
OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—Opposition to the agreement which gives the Western Canada Hockey League the exclusive right to sign United States hockey players is being expressed by Eastern Canada sports editors. The Ottawa Journal this morning says it is very likely that the "one-sided agreement" will be abrogated.

"Boston is the first team to feel the effects of the ruling, and the National Hockey League officials were aware of the one-sided nature of the arrangement when the Western League claimed him and Galtbrith, of Everett, signed by the Bruins of Boston." The Journal continues, "The N.H.L. team can take an amateur player in the wide territory governed by United States hockey without permission from the West. If Pittsburgh comes in next year, considerable fuss would be on with the Patricks, who put through the agreement at a time when amateur hockey in the States was still in its infancy."

COLONIST BOWLERS WIN FROM HATTERS

The Colonist bowlers took two of the three games from the Wilcox Hat Co. by a margin of 225 pins in the second match of the season in the City League. The Hatters raised the hopes of their supporters in the second match, but fell down again in the third.

Chapman and Bell rolled over the 500 mark for the Hatters and Moulton was high for the Hatters with 500 even.

In the Commercial League, the Five Roses Flour met the Jinkie Dinks for the first time this season, and came out victors in two out of the three games played. The Jinkie Dinks took the first game, but the flour men came back in the remaining games, winning out with a comfortable margin of 95 points.

GORDON FRASER JOINS COUGARS

LESTER PATRICK GETS "RED" FOR VICTORIA DEFENCE

Two Former Seattle Players Now on Local Roster—Fraser Out of Defence Aces of Loop

MR. GORDON FRASER

Victoria hockey devotees will welcome the announcement that Gordon "Red" Fraser, the big burly defence star of the Seattle Metropolitans during the last few seasons, will this year appear in a Victoria uniform, and will prove a valuable addition to the defence line of the Cougars.

Fraser, reputed to be one of the best defence men in the P.C.H.A. last season, is not only a good man on the ice in front of the cage, but knows how to work his way through the opposing defensive for goals. And in both respects he was a mighty important factor in the Seattle machine. And what's more, there's no reason in the world why he should not be just as useful in the colors of the Victoria Hockey Club.

The second player who was with Seattle last season to join the Cougars is Lester Patrick. Fraser and Patrick pleased the local rabble when he secured the services of Happy Holmes to watch the Victoria nets, and in the second match of the season in the City League, the Hatters raised the hopes of their supporters in the second match, but fell down again in the third.

Chapman and Bell rolled over the 500 mark for the Hatters and Moulton was high for the Hatters with 500 even.

ST. ANDREW'S TEAM OF HIGH CALIBRE

Mainland Soccer Champions Coming in Force for Thanksgiving Day Match With Local "Hops"

All in order for the visit here of the St. Andrew's soccer team, champions of the Mainland, for the Thanksgiving day match against the Victoria "Hops" team. The local officials of the Lower Island Football Association received a letter yesterday from Mr. S. J. Leitch, of the St. Andrew's Club, telling them that everything was arranged and that the team would surely be over.

That the St. Andrew's eleven is one which will make a heating is obvious. Mr. Leitch sends the line-up, together with some interesting comments and descriptions of the individual players as follows:

Saints' Line-Up
The line-up: Norman Hogarth; Andy Watson and Bert Dugger; Billy Bradshaw, Jimmy Patterson and Neil Robertson; Fred Wilson, Dave Greig; Colin Campbell, Dave Turner and George Wilson. George Hogarth is the peer of Mainland keepers, even outshining Mosher, being more nimble and safer on ground shots. This is his first season with the club. Andy Watson, the right back, captains the team and his kicking cannot be surpassed. Bert Dugger, the iron man of football is a great little back. He takes some awful falls, and always comes up smiling. He has wonderful speed, but is rather inclined to over-kill.

Billy Bradshaw, right half, is the Tom Thumb of football; a fine player with a ball. This is his first season with the club, but he fits into the Saints' close passing game. Jimmy Patterson, the centre half, has a hard time to fill the shoes of the late George Wilson. He is a good player, but his first season with the club. Andy Watson, the right back, captains the team and his kicking cannot be surpassed. Bert Dugger, the iron man of football is a great little back. He takes some awful falls, and always comes up smiling. He has wonderful speed, but is rather inclined to over-kill.

A Nasty Habit
Fred Wilson, the outside right, has a habit of scoring from the touching side. His terrific shot, Dave Greig, inside right, is called by the fans, "Babe Ruth." Hardly ever missed a game without walking the ball into the net. A great exponent of the close passing game. It is one of the veterans of Mainland football.

George Wilson, the "one and only," the only player who has both an English and Scottish cup badge. George still has the same wonderful cross, a little slower on his feet, but still has the old noodle.

Norman Hume, reserve forward, is one of the famous Saint trio—McKinnon, Forgie and Hume—and still has the same educated feet.

Victoria College Wins Basketball Games From Normal School Teams

EPINARD SHIPPED HOME
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Epinaud, the French four-year-old which came to this country in July to take the great-niece of America's thoroughbred, named today for home to be retired to the stud, after losing four races and suffering a foot injury in the last.

The chestnut was accompanied by three American mare, which will be mated with him next season. They are Batin Sirens, two-year-old filly, owned by the Hamilton Farm, and the blood mares Hove Island and Quail Chance, owned by Major August Belmont. The stud fee will be $1,500.

CRYSTAL GARDEN TENDERS OPENED
Announcement as to the awarding of the contract for the Crystal Garden is expected today from Mr. Basil Gardom, superintendent of construction, Western hotel system, Canadian Pacific Railway.

Revised tentative tenders from the local contractors, whose bids were rejected last week, were opened by Mr. Gardom yesterday afternoon. With the architects, Messrs. Rattenbury and Jones, Mr. Gardom was considering the tenders up to a late hour last night.

It is expected that a decision with respect to the contract will be reached some time today.

Sportive Punches

By the "Old Un"

The latest tour of England by leading American baseball teams is not a pronounced success. Candidly, we never thought it would be, knowing perhaps more of British temperament and British ideas of sport than the leaders of American baseball could be expected to know.

It is largely a matter of national temperament, the popularity or otherwise in one country of another's national game.

The Britisher has given America most of America's games and sports, but no purely American game or British game improved (?) in America, has ever caught on "back home."

Just the same, although the British public exercises its freedom of choice by staying away from what does not interest it, its sport writers are, for the most part, quite polite and good-natured in their criticisms.

It may be thought by some on this side of the pond that it is clever or funny to deride an English sport writer because he does not use American slang (more power to him), but you will notice that, with few exceptions, the English sportsmen are polite to the strangers within their gates.

They seem to be digging down to find as many nice things to say about the visitors and their game as possible, although obviously unable to see any chance of the Old Countryman taking the game of baseball as seriously as does the American.

It is very easy to make fun of something you do not understand. The majority of American sport writers make fun of cricket, more or less good-naturedly. The English sport writers are more courteous. They try to understand baseball enough to say something nice about it.

The following alleged dream recently won a prize in a "funny dream, contest" in The Chicago Referee:

"I was in the habit of playing a certain horse. I played it in my first, it came second, and, if I played it a second, it came third. Eventually this horse had to be shot, and the same night I had a dream which landed me in heaven, and the first thing I saw was this horse. He looked at me and said: 'All you need does come forth.' And I'm darned if my horse didn't come PITY!"

James J. Corbett says that none of the wild forms of exercise in the world can compare, even remotely, with that of walking in the matter of health-building benefit to mankind.

That's why hunting, as the word is understood in this country, is so good for us. It would be interesting to learn just how many miles the average hunter walks for each grouse he bags.

Also how many miles the average hunter MOTORS for each cock pheasant he takes home!

It is easy to compute approximately how many miles the average player walks for each shot he takes at a golf ball. Scoffers used to say that a game of golf was a "good walk spoiled." A better way of looking at it would be as a good walk spoiled.

Rugby appears to be flourishing in the Old Country once more. At the annual meeting of the London Society of Rugby Union Referees, held under the chairmanship of Mr. G. Rowland Hill, it was stated that the applications for referees last season reached the record number of 2,480.

Accused Mongeon
Testifying this morning, Mrs. Lariviere, wife of Constable Armand Lariviere, who disappeared mysteriously on March 4 last, said that Alderman Mongeon had stated: "The government is no good. Look what they did to poor Morel (one of the bandits executed for the Hochelaga Bank robbery and murder). I have got $5,000 of the Hochelaga Bank's money and they will never get a cent of it. Half an hour before the hold-up I was with those men."

Mrs. Lariviere further alleged that Mongeon also said that all the bandits would be out of jail before they were hanged, and that Morel would be back on the police force in two years.

Mrs. Lariviere also said that in her efforts to trace her husband she had approached Chief Belanger, who told her that he knew her father-in-law, Sergeant Lariviere, that he was a bad man, that there were other bad men in the police force, and that Lariviere "shared so many of the chief's secrets that he (Belanger) would not fire him for anything in the world."

When spoken to about the allegations of Mrs. Lariviere Alderman Mongeon issued a denial of them.

Handed Denied Story
Justice Coderre said that the story of Mongeon and the $5,000 bank of Hochelaga money had been going around for some time. His lordship said that when he visited Bordeaux jail to interrogate the bandits on police conditions just before they were hanged, he asked Morel if he had given $5,000 to Mongeon and the condemned man said he had never done so. His lordship added that Morel seemed surprised that the question had been put to him.

Mrs. Lariviere said she had identified as her husband a body taken from the river by the coroner's court. She said she was mistaken.

Concluding her testimony, Mrs. Lariviere told the court that there had been great opposition to her marriage with her husband, that she had received telephone messages threatening her life unless she left him, and that one of her husband's brothers had once told her that "the old man" (Lariviere senior) was going to "get" Armand, dead or alive, "for marrying an Irish girl."

Mrs. Lariviere said Alderman Mongeon kept a store opposite to her mother's home and she had asked him to help her in finding her husband.

Alderman Mongeon took the stand and vigorously denied the statements attributed to him by Mrs. Lariviere.

but he had drawn a full day's pay and even overtime for a considerable period. Scores of witnesses could testify that he had done no work.

Here one of the delegates offered in the council a resolution of Mr. Hall's assertion.

Meanwhile, he had continued his negotiations with the Compensation Board, Mr. Hall declared. He finally succeeded in having X-ray photographs made of his spine. The medical opinion of the board had been that his spine was normal. When he had been told that his trouble was purely mental, that he suffered from functional neurosis. He had been sent to Vancouver for observation as a psychopathic case.

Outlining his many conflicts with the board, the speaker charged that he had been denied a hearing at its last sitting here.

During the intervening years he had fought unsuccessfully for justice before the board, independent of the board, had tested him and found his spine to be injured. Dr. Bryant, who had

REEVE COMMENDED BY SAANICH BODY

Reeve Macdonell was commended for his stand in the recent Saanich police investigation by the Ward Four Ratepayers' Association last night at the Strawberry Vale School. A resolution was passed so informing him.

It was apparent that should the Reeve stand for re-election to Reeve, he would have the support of the association behind him, as in an informal discussion among candidates none save Mr. Macdonell's name was mentioned. Another meeting will be held next month, when the organization will formally pick its favorites in the race for the council and reeve-ship.

New officers for 1925 elected by the ratepayers last night were: President, Mr. F. Lockett; vice-president, Mr. W. Warwick; secretary, Mr. J. Chastman; executive committee, Mr. F. Nix, Dr. A. Francis, Mr. J. Gille, Mr. Coverdale and Mr. Richardson.

The present system of having repairs to the Saanich schools made by Mr. W. Foster was discussed, and the work done by Mr. Foster was praised. The association wants to be satisfied with the system.

The attendance was large, many being present from Wards Three and Five as well as from Ward 4. Mr. R. Miller was chairman.

Electrical equipment in Holland is progressing rapidly, including the electrification of the entire railway system.

Important Ceremony At Victoria College

Friends Present Dr. E. B. Paul, Principal of Institution, With Robes Which Are Symbol of Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws Recently Conferred by Aberdeen University—Several Scholarships Awarded—Lieutenant-Governor Nichol Speaks

SINCE its foundation here three or four years ago Victoria College has achieved much, not only in respect of actual output in students but in stimulating among the public generally interest in scholarship. Evidence of this was shown yesterday afternoon in the presentation of a number of scholarships and prizes won by Victoria students either actually in Victoria College or about to enter there from the Victoria High School, a still more popular incident of the afternoon programme was the presentation to Dr. E. B. Paul, M.A., LL.D., of the robes to which he recently became entitled with the granting by his old university at Aberdeen of the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. Thunderous applause broke from students, faculty and guests when Mr. B. C. Nicholas, representing the donors of the robes, made announcement of the gift which admiring friends in the city had decided upon, and cheers mingled with the clapping when Professor Howard Russell assisted the popular principal of Victoria College to don the vivid scarlet and blue gown and black mortarboard—the symbol of the degree—as Dr. Paul called these in very feelingly expressing his thanks for the gift.

Mr. Nicholas has not told you how much I am indebted for the degree to my friends, to himself, to the Department, Minister, Superintendent of Education, the members of the faculty, the chairman and members of the school board," said Dr. Paul with modest deprecation of his worthiness of so great recognition. A degree of Doctor of Laws from the University of Aberdeen was an honor not to be despised. Neither was the love of one's friends.

Dr. Paul, it may be noted, is the third in the family to receive the LL.D. from Aberdeen University, two brothers, Sir George Paul, Deputy Keeper of the Signet of Scotland, and Rev. David Paul, head of the Church of Scotland, also holding the same degree. Speakers yesterday referred to Dr. A. B. Paul's great contribution to education in Victoria, recalling that he had been connected with the schools here for the past twenty-four years, having been principal of the High School, municipal inspector of the city schools, principal of McGill University College at Victoria, and, lastly, principal of Victoria College in affiliation with the University of British Columbia.

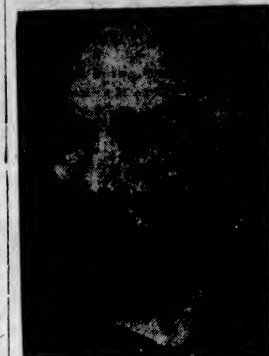

College Record
Dr. Paul, presiding at the earlier part of the proceedings, told something about Victoria College history, the story of its beginnings, the additions to its faculty and the record of its students. The donors of the scholarships were thanked for their interest. Such awards were prized not alone for their monetary value—although that was important—but for the honor which came with the winning of them.

His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor Walter C. Nichol, who was attended by Mr. H. J. S. Muskett, was asked to present the French scholarship of $100, which he had recently offered to the Victoria College student making the best marks in French. After this had been handed amid much applause to Miss Mildred Orr, the winner, other scholarships were given as follows:

Kiwanis Club scholarship for $100, awarded to the man student completing his first year and entering his second year in Victoria College. This was awarded to Mr. Harold W. Blackett, Mr. B. J. Willis, president of the Kiwanis Club, making the presentation, commenting that the recipient, according to the terms of selection, must be a "man of character likely to be of more than average service to the city and the Province."

The Cecilia Green memorial scholarship, awarded by reversion to Miss Hope Leeming, who ranked next to the winner, Arthur Wheeler, with an average of 79.4 per cent in her examinations. Mr. Wheeler, who has since gone to Alaska, would not use the scholarship. (Announcement of the award of this scholarship was not made until after the formal part of

Mrs. Hyndman presented the scholarship in the unavoidable absence of the club president, Miss Mary Hamilton, giving the recipient as a watchword "courage and patience."

The David Spencer, Ltd., scholarship of $100, presented on behalf of the donors by Mr. Will Spencer to Miss Jean Mungrace. This scholarship is given to the student taking the highest standing in first year mathematics and continuing studies at Victoria College.

Reference was made to other scholarships: The Women's Canadian Club scholarship of $75, already presented to Miss Janet Skelton, and the Men's Canadian Club prize for high standing in history. This has not yet been awarded this year.
Announcement was made of a new prize of $25 to be given by Miss Cann, of the Victoria College faculty, for an original poem made by a student of Victoria College during the present college year, the award to be decided by a committee appointed by the principal, and the prize to be given only to a person considered by that committee to possess some literary merit. The students showed much pleasure over this.

Numerous Speakers
There were several speakers during the afternoon other than Dr. Paul, the principal and chairman, and Mr. B. C. Nicholas, who made the presentation to him of his robes with the comment that he (Dr. Paul) was "a very rare scholar and a very fine gentleman." His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor said that a recent visit to France and a conversation with the Victoria College instructor in French (Madame Sanderson-Mongin) had inspired him to make the gift of a French scholarship to the college. A wider knowledge of the languages and literature and sentiments of other countries, a greater mingling of ideas, would tend to the lessening of international misunderstandings. Senator R. E. Green (who was present with Mrs. Green) spoke of the advantages of a college education, particularly one with a certain practical value such as he believed students obtained at Victoria College. Like all the preceding speakers, he spoke of the esteemed and affectionate place which Dr. Paul holds in the hearts of all Victoria people.

Mr. J. L. Beckwith, representing the Victoria school board, expressed proud satisfaction at the success attained by the college, which, he confidently believed, would before long be giving a full four years' art course instead of two.

There was a good musical programme interspersed among the addresses, those taking part being Miss Hope Leeming, pianist; Mr. Vernon Smith, violinist; and Miss Dorothy Greenwood, pianist; and guests afterwards were invited to remain for tea, served in the library.

OPEN VERDICT GIVEN AT NELSON INQUIRY

Find Kettle Valley Line Catastrophe Result From High Explosives Placed in Car

NELSON, Nov. 5.—After an exhaustive investigation, including autopsies, a visit to the disaster scene, and examination of every possible witness, the Nelson coroner's jury on the four bodies here, out of the nine victims of the Farron coach explosion on October 23, finally brought in a verdict today, naming an explosive as the cause. The verdict read: "That in our opinion the said William J. Armstrong, Neil E. Murray, Mary Sireloft and Henry J. Blahop came to their deaths as the result of the disaster near Farron, B.C., on the morning of October 23, 1924, by a powerful explosive placed within Canadian Pacific Railway car No. 1284 by some person or persons unknown, either with intent or through ignorance."

"We would earnestly request that the Attorney-General's Department of this Province continue diligent their efforts to apprehend the person or persons responsible for this terrible accident."

This verdict much resembles that returned by the Grand Jury on Saturday on the five bodies of that place.

Fraser Salmon Harvest
NEW WESTMINSTER, Nov. 5.—A harvest of $1,000,000 worth of salmon has been taken out of the Fraser River during the present season, according to A. P. Halliday, Dominion Fisheries Inspector. To date 181,702 cases of all varieties of salmon have been packed by the nine canneries operating on the river and vicinity, last year for the same period 192,703 cases were packed.

were called upon to tell the needs of their districts.
W. H. Dawes, of Sidney, raised the lumber arbitrary that worked against that place, constituting a tax of $30 or $35 on every car going out. This amount often constituted the profit, he said. The clam canning industry at Sidney also suffered from Americans getting privileges that ruined the local business.

T. Pearce, Courtenay, said his community had an outstanding complaint. This was the wretched condition of the road leading to it. Mr. Pearce referred to the attention of the House had for Vancouver City. Anything that would tend to alter this condition to the benefit of Victoria or elsewhere on the Island would be welcomed.

E. M. Whyte, of Alberni, said the first necessity of that centre was the improvement of the Island Road. The completion of a road to Comox Lake was also desired. This would open up vast agricultural lands. If connected later with the Port Renfrew Road, a round trip would be afforded tourists.

T. Collings, of Ladysmith, also laid stress on the road question. It was of vital interest.

Industrial Question
Capt. Matheson, of Esquimalt, raised the industrial question. Too long the boys of the country had been drawn away from their homes. Local men were finding work in the lumber industry in the United States. In settling the timber royalty question the Government should see that the lumber of the Island was not only logged but manufactured in the Province.

Col. J. Goldhaven, of Shawnigan Lake, advocated a second road to Victoria. The Mill Bay ferry was helping, but it would not take the place of a second highway.

Mr. Good felt that better freight rates would create a boom in the Province. The Island Road required attention at once. A higher duty on fuel oil was essential. The preservation of the timber of the Island along the tourist routes was most important.

Mr. Schwenger advocated that the Associated Board's executive should keep in touch with the different districts. He felt the newspapers of the Island might be asked to aid in the undertaking. The Island was, he said, being bound together as never before. A hard surfaced road would cement the different parts. Action should be taken just as quickly as possible to urge a hard surfaced road upon the Government and to back it up with a large delegation.

A. H. Peterson, Cowichan Board of Trade, thought they should concentrate on a few things. It was better to co-operate on one thing and press it than scatter their work. He advocated the Island road.

M.P.'s Speak
Major Gus Lyons, M.P.P., referred to the fact that the representative of the district, Mr. C. F. Davie, had that afternoon in the House pressed the question of road improvement upon the Government. He felt that the Island was not getting its fair share.

Mr. Davie said he realized that what was needed was a highly intensified functioning organization. He agreed that the delegation, strong numerically as well as mentally, was needed to wait upon the Government. He felt there were members from the Mainland who would assist in a move to overcome this starving of the district. All that should be asked was a fair return of the revenue contributed.

Victor Hanson called attention to the fact that members of the Legislature were more representative than a gathering like this. He was in favor of bending energies to develop the industries of the Island. He urged Victoria to use its energies to have roads built to Leech River and Goldstream, where falls and mountains were unexcelled.

C. H. Dickie, M.P., lauded the decision to concentrate on the roads of the Island. "Keep away from politics as far as you can," he said. "Play the game square, and you will be doing the greatest work for the Island." He promised all the aid in his power to the movement.

The delegates included the following:

Victoria—C. P. W. Schwengers, Geo. I. Warren, H. G. Wilson, E. W. McMullen, C. P. Hill, A. Lyons, M.P.P. Nanaimo—Mayor Busby, Victor Harrison, George Knister, E. E. YOU have no idea how much happiness paint and varnish yield when applied properly in rooms. Effective painting may almost double the amount of light in a room naturally rather dark. The painting of woodwork in cream or light buff makes all the difference in the world. Then varnish is very important in interior decorating. Varnished surfaces catch the light as do the facets of gems. Nowhere is varnish more generally needed than in the front hall. Many a worn staircase has been transformed by its use. A bright, pleasant kitchen makes for happy thoughts. Now is the time of year to have interior work done because master painters are free to give their very best services during the winter months.

NANAIMO PIONEER, CIVIC LEADER, DIES

Mr. Charles Wilson, Eleven Years Alderman, Passes Away—Well Known in Fraternal Circles

NANAIMO, Nov. 5.—The death occurred Tuesday morning of Mr. Charles Wilson, a resident of Nanaimo since 1882, and prominent in fraternal and civic circles.

The deceased came to Canada in 1881 and for a time was engaged on the C.P.R. during construction days. Coming to Nanaimo the following year, he followed his occupation as a carpenter, and for a number of years was in the employ of the Vancouver Coal Company. Later he entered the contracting business on his own account. He retired two years ago after an active life.

The late Mr. Wilson for eleven years was a member of the City Council. He was also a member of the local Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows and Elks, and during his membership in those societies had filled practically all offices within the gift of his brother members. At the time of his death he was master of the local Pythian lodge, and was also secretary of the local Pythian lodge.

About a year ago Mr. Wilson was seized with the illness which ultimately ended in his death. He was confined to his bed about a month ago, since which time his condition had become rapidly worse.

The deceased was a native of Leeds, England, and aged 63 years. Besides his widow, he is survived by two sons, George and Charles, both of this city. The funeral will take place from the family residence on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock under the auspices of Nanaimo Lodge, No. 4, Knights of Pythias.

ROYAL OAK NEWS

ROYAL OAK, Nov. 5.—A meeting of the W.A. of St. Columba's Church was held this afternoon, when plans for a sale of work were completed. In addition to the usual stalls of home cooking and fancy work in charge of the ladies, a men's stall, with Mr. Pettit, Mr. Reeves and Mr. Hall as vendors, will be a feature of the event, which will be held in the Margery Little Hall during the afternoon and evening of November 19.

Owing to the sale of work planned by the W.A. of St. Columba's Church on November 19, the fortnightly card party, under the auspices of the R.O.W.L., to be held at the residence on Greene Avenue, will be held on Friday, November 21, when play will start at 8 o'clock.

A jolly indoor picnic and Halloween celebration was held in the Elk Lake church last week-end, when about thirty members and friends joined in merry-making. A bonfire supper was served at 6 o'clock, and was followed by a huge bonfire and a short entertainment, including a community sing. Thanks were accorded Mr. H. A. Dandridge and Mr. G. Bent who, with the superintendent of the Sunday school, contributed to the success of the evening's entertainment.

NANOOSE DANCE ENJOYED

NANOOSE BAY, Nov. 5.—The club-house at Red Gap, Nanoose Bay, was the scene of a jolly Halloween dance given by the Strata Pastime Club. There was a large crowd of people both from the surrounding district and from Nanaimo. The decorations, which had been put up by a committee under the supervision of Mr. Arthur Anthony, were appropriate and pretty. Mr. J. Schell was an able floor manager. The music was supplied by the Strata orchestra from Nanaimo. The dancers were delighted with the music, judging by the number of encores requested. The well-known firm of Shelly's from Nanaimo were the caterers and the club members made excellent waiters. The dance was kept up until a late hour, with everyone enthusiastic over this successful evening.

Institute Heats Address

STRAWBERRY VALE, Nov. 5.—In spite of inclement weather and difficulties of transportation owing to the closing down of the B.C. Electric Railway, there was a fair attendance of interested members at yesterday's meeting of the Strawberry Vale W.I. held in their rooms on Roy Avenue, Colquits. In the absence of Mrs. Haycock, president, Mrs. Jones, vice-president, occupied the chair. Mrs. Frank Campbell, district convener of legislation for the island, addressed the members on legislation in British Columbia affecting women and children. An invitation was extended to the convener to attend another meeting of the institute in the near future.

Plans for a box social to be held in Strawberry Vale Hall on November 14, were completed, and it was decided to give two good prizes for the box. Mrs. Fink and Miss King form the social committee for this event, while Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Foster are in charge of the programme, which will be a feature of the evening.

There has recently passed away, at ripe old age, one of nature's gentlemen and a pioneer of British Columbia. W. W. Tuttle, of Fernie, B. C., died suddenly near Spokane on October 10th.

He was my friend since 1902, when as a representative of The B. C. Mining Record (then most ably edited and managed by Harold Mortimer Lamb, in Victoria), I first visited Fernie, the capital of the East Kootenay.

Bill Tuttle was a magnificent specimen of the true Westerner. He was a lifelong personal friend of President Roosevelt, "Teddy," America's great sportsman and much loved President.

Mr. Tuttle was 62 years of age and up to the time of his death was most hale and hearty for a man of his years and the strenuous life he had lived. His was a most generous soul and he was popular wherever he went. At the time of his sudden death, which took place early last month, Bill was proprietor of the Triangle garage in Spokane and as a former custodian of the I. O. O. F. Temple was well known and well liked everywhere. The day of his death he went out hunting with a friend, D. F. Powell. The two men were strolling near Hazelwood, when Mr. Tuttle was struck with a sharp pain in his chest. A few moments later he died in his friends' arms, who had picked him up where he fell. The doctors gave as their diagnosis "heart failure."

For many years, in the old days, Bill Tuttle ran the Royal Hotel at Fernie, B. C., before the first disastrous fire that wiped out the whole town. It was at the Royal Hotel in 1902 that I first knew him, although I had met him in Cranbrook before that at the time of a very celebrated and long remembered race—100 yards—between a Fernie sprinter (Fred Mitchell) and the hope of Cranbrook (a man named "Bert").

Bill Tuttle was there and a heavy better. He was the prince of a host and a liberal, kind friend. His kindness was always of a practical nature and he never forgot those he knew if that man or woman was in trouble.

Sixteen years ago he moved to Spokane, where he engaged in the real estate business at the height of the boom. In his hotel dining-room at Fernie was a huge framed sign—a border of lariat rope and the words: "Put your brand on your heifer before you take it into the corral."

(I am not sure I have the wording quite right—I write from memory). It was in Spokane that I last saw Bill Tuttle and on a memorable occasion. President Roosevelt was making his first historical tour of the West as President. Spokane was alive with rough-riders, his personal escort. Spokane was crowded with enthusiastic Americans from all over Washington, Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Utah, all to see "Teddy." Spokane was full of British Columbia Masons from many a B. C. Lodge, who came to attend the foundation ceremonies coincident with the laying of the cornerstone of the New (then) Masonic Temple. The President, as a newly raised Mason, performed the ceremony of declaring the cornerstone "well and truly laid." He spoke to great masses of enthusiastic people on some vacant lots close to the Spokane Auditorium, where are now huge office buildings (I had the honor of a seat on the platform just behind him, thanks to a good friend). It was a remarkable and wonderful speech. In the middle of it he became so excited, and so proud of the flag bedraped around him, that he forgot to stand in front of him so hard he disarranged the stars and stripes—and an opposition press did not omit to mention: "The President tears down the flag."

Later Mr. Roosevelt drove in procession with thousands following, thousands lining the streets, through the city.

When the carriage (no motor cars then) with its attendant outriders, crossed the bridge over the Spokane River, where are great edifices now, when the Presidential train left the station (I think it was the Great Northern—or Northern Pacific, I forget, its a while back) Bill Tuttle was the last man to write the hand of his old partner and that time I am sure I saw tears in Bill's eyes and in the eyes of the man who sat in Lincoln's chair and was loved as few Presidents have been loved. He did not forget to wave from the train either and say "Good bye, Bill." It was good-bye, for I don't think they met again.

That's a while back and they have met again—at last.

I never saw either of them again but I'm glad to have met two good men and true and glad to say I've met many more since.

LADIES OF LUTHERAN LADIES' AID SOCIETY ARRANGE ANNUAL SALE

The November meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. F. Frier, 2008 Chambers Street. The missionary study hour was devoted to the subject, "For these also Christ died," which dealt with the work of missions among the Kurds, and the people of South America, Central America and Mexico. It was pointed out that these have been neglected for centuries, but at the present time mission work was being successfully wrought by the Lutheran Church in these fields.

The business hour was especially devoted to the preparation for the annual sale, to be held Wednesday afternoon, November 26. Mrs. R. F. Kibler was elected general convener. Articles may be left at the parsonage, or will be collected if 75¢ or more is called by phone.

Committees for the various departments are as follows: Fancy work, Madeline L. Schmitt and Weber; home cooking, Madeline Frier, Kohes and Chertoff; fish pond, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Groves; after-noon tea, Madeline C. Schmitt, Groun and Fisher; supper, Madeline Schmitt, Clarke, Lawrence and Harter. A programme will be arranged for the evening, together with other amusements for young and old. The ladies have been working industriously and will have an unusually fine selection of articles to offer for sale.

At the close of the meeting tea was served to the fourteen ladies present, to two children, comprising the "Junior Aid," and to others, by the hostess.

Mount Popocatepetl, the smoking mountain of Mexico, is still smoking, though no eruption has occurred since 1849.

Cenotaph Assumes Place In the Life of London

Idea Weaves Itself Into the English Spirit as Business Men Bare Their Heads in Passing—Canadians Present When Memorial Wreaths Are Presented—London Honors Two Young Women Who Win Literary and Musical Success

I WONDER if Sir Edward Lutyens realized, when he built the Cenotaph, how closely it would be identified with London life. That tall stone column, with its brilliant base of massed flowers of every color, makes a vivid centre to the long grey street of Whitehall. One sees hurried business men raising their hats as they pass the Cenotaph, and the cards attached to the lovely wreaths with inscriptions from factory men in memory of their comrades, from big business men who remember the men who did not come back, as well as those from the mothers whose pathetic inscriptions on the modest bunches of flowers, that have no less honored place, show how deeply the idea of the Cenotaph has woven itself into the English spirit.

A little group of Canadians were interested spectators this morning when the Hon. E. M. Macdonald, Canadian Minister of Defence, placed a beautiful wreath of dahlias, roses and huge lilies.

"In proud memory of the Glorious Dead, from the Minister of National Defence, on behalf of the Government and people of Canada."

Twenty-five men of the P.P.C.L.I. Band, in scarlet uniforms, marched behind the group of officers who accompanied Mr. Macdonald. They included Lt.-Col. H. C. Crerar, R.C.A., Lt.-Col. Walker Bell, R.C.D., Wing Commander J. L. Gordon, R.A.F., Major George Vannier, 22nd Regiment, Captain Morton, R.C.A., Captain Murchie, Captain Currie, R.C.O.C., and Lieut. T. W. James, P.P.C.L.I.

Among the civilians present were Mr. F. C. Wade, Agent-General for British Columbia, the Agent-General for Nova Scotia, Mr. C. Wentworth Burt and Mr. E. M. Macdonald.

There are certain ethics of electioneering that no wise woman disregards. A Canadian woman who is noted for the very efficient help she gives to her English husband, told me that she was always very careful to wear the same hat, and that a brightly colored one, all through the election meetings, so that she could be easily recognized in a crowd.

One of the features of the present election is the number of the younger members of the Conservative families who are fighting on the Labor side, presumably in the hope that is surely the triumph of faith over experience, that the wisdom of their more moderate counsels will prevail over the Communist minority of the Party that seems to be able to wag the tail of Mr. John Strachey, the son of the editor of "The Spectator," in the ranks of these optimists, and has written an able exposition of his standpoint in the pages of "The Socialist Review."

Miss Stella Wolfe Murray, that able woman journalist who is well known in Canada, has caused something of a sensation over here by becoming the first woman Lobby Journalist. Miss Wolfe Murray has successfully edited for some time a service to the London, Provincial, American and overseas press of news paragraphs about women in public life, or who follow original careers. This last activity of hers puts her in the front rank of the women who used to interview for, according to Mr. T. P. O'Connor, who mentioned Miss Wolfe Murray's advent as something of an epoch making nature, entrance to the Lobby is hard to get, and even gentle-

Where Vast Crowds Watched the British Vote Bulletins

Centre of stirring election scenes. Trafalgar Square, where nearly half a million Londoners awaited the election results. A large screen was hung over the wall of the building which is exposed to the extreme right of the photograph and as the results were received they were flashed onto it from one of the side windows of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Seaport offices which are seen toward the right front. In addition to the election results a series of slides and films illustrating scenes and industries in Canada were shown, while at the same time, through the largest loud speaker procurable, a lecture was delivered on Canada, interspersed with the Maple Leaf and other Canadian songs.

men in the press gallery upstairs are not admitted except in a very small percentage. Miss Wolfe Murray has found friendly help among the senior men who have smoothed her way through the barred gates that guard the members of the Lobby press in the inner Lobby. She tells me that she is still carrying on the Women's News and Views service, but her modesty will probably prevent her from sending out a paragraph about her own remarkable success.

Notable Reception

Miss Sarah Fischer had an enthusiastic reception at the Wigmore Hall yesterday when she gave a song recital with a wonderful programme. The artistic accomplishment of this gifted young singer was demonstrated very thoroughly by the exigencies of a programme containing seveneenth century Italian songs, five modern English songs, of which "Soft-footed Snow," by Sigurd Lie, made a special appeal to the audience, and modern French songs, and one of two Russian and German. It was a programme that made no special bid for popularity but immediate domination on the technique and artistic skill of the singer, and in neither case did Miss Fischer fail to satisfy her audience. Her beautiful interpretation of "Lamento," "The White Queen," and the charming rendering of Duparc's well known "Lamento," was followed by the beautiful and impressive "Faisces," of Poldowski (Lady Dean Paul), and the delightful "Chanson Espagnole" of Delibes. Miss Fischer was the recipient of many beautiful flowers, and in response to the enthusiastic applause she gave as an encore the old French-Canadian song, "La cloche Pontiac."

Among the audience I noticed Lady Margaret Boscowen, Lady Sassoon and a party of friends, Miss Mildred Bennett and Mrs. Fordham of Vancouver, the Hon. Mrs. Graham Murray, Mrs. John Macormack and Madame Albani, whose well known interest in the younger Canadian singers was also shown in a charming letter of congratulation.

Lady Patricia Ramsay's interest in her regiment of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry has never slackened, and a day or two ago she and the Duke of Connaught went out to Winnipeg to pay a visit to the bandmen of the regiment who are filling a three weeks' engagement at the Exhibition. A most interested member of the party was Lady Patricia's small son, the Hon. Alexander Ramsay, familiarly known as "Sandy," who took the greatest interest in everything and became the proud possessor of several model railway engines. Lady Patricia, who looked very charming in a blue serge dress and blue hat and a velvet shawl, shook hands with all the bandmen, and both she and the Duke chatted for some time with their leader, Lieut. James.

Wembley was looking more beautiful than ever in the cold October sunshine. The 59,000 who visited the Exhibition that day were so scattered over the vast ground that one could get a better idea than ever of the beauty of the arrangement of the buildings and gardens. The Canadian building, as usual, was well filled, and there is general satisfaction in the renewed hope that the Pavilion will be opened next year. Now that the more obvious sights have been fully inspected, one has time to linger over all sorts of undiscussed things, the old 15th century Tudor house, with its carved oak beams, galleried hall, and beautiful period furniture.

I saw the Period Rooms in the Palace of Art for the first time yesterday. The Early Victorian room seizes one by the throat with an awful feeling of the horrors from which we have escaped, not only horrors of ugly furniture, but of false values and old shibboleths, such as living in the right neighborhood, and being in or out of town at the right time. It was a relief to go to the lovely modern dining-room, designed by Lord Gerald Wellesley and his partner, with its primrose walls and ceiling, and deft combination of powder blue and sea green in the woodwork hangings, and lovely mural paintings.

Lord Gerald, by the way, is president of the new Magnasco Society, formed in honor of the Seventeenth Century Italian painter, whose fame has suffered an eclipse perhaps because at least two of his pictures in the Louvre collection used to be ascribed to Salvator Rosa. The Magnasco Society are now holding an extremely interesting loan collection of Baroque painting, to the furtherance and study of which the members are dedicated. As might have been expected from his recent delightful book on "Baroque Art," Sacheverell Sitwell is the honorary secretary of the Society, and two or three pictures by Magnasco, shown in the present exhibition, are lent by Mr. Osbert Sitwell.

One of the most enhancing things about loan exhibitions is, that by showing you hitherto unknown specimens, they so often upset your preconceived prejudices. I have always disliked the sweet sweetness of Carlo Dolci and Guido Reni, but the two brilliant portraits by Carlo Dolci, lent by Mr. Finch, and the portrait of Cardinal Ubaldo, by Guido Reni, lent by Mrs. Benjamin Guinness, made me revise my ignorant opinion. It was a delight to see again Caravaggio's "Gamblers," from the Duke of Wellington's collection. Like all the Bonapartes, Joseph had a fine artistic taste, and the picture was captured at the battle of Vittoria in his carriage, being subsequently presented to the first Duke of Wellington by Ferdinand II of Spain.

London Theatres

The elections do not seem to have hit the theatres quite as much as the managers feared. I went in to see four Novello acting in "The Rat," the other night, and found a crowded and enthusiastic audience applauding a play written by two English people, which makes the bowdlerized edition of "Le Roi" into a comic episode. There were not so many people present at the second performance of Mr. Temple Thurston's play, "The Blue Peter," at the Princess Theatre, perhaps because Mr. Thurston has forgotten that, moralizing in generalizations as to what men and women do or do not do, frankly bore most British audiences. During the long discussions between David Hunter's mother and wife played by Mary Barton and Cathleen Nesbitt, as to what men are like in general and David (George Tully) in particular, I had a nervous feeling that someone in the Gods would soon cry aloud, "Get on with the play."

"The Blue Peter" gives Miss Dorothy Minto a chance to play a horrid little mix in a low tavern, but the play suffered from the lack of attractive people in the cast. Mr. George Tully cut a sorry figure from never being able to make up his mind, usually for the most laudable reasons. He stays in Africa instead of going home to be married, so as to help his comrades. After six years of married life, boredom with office life, and the chance of making a fortune in Central Africa, decide him to return. His wife says that would not be playing the game so he decides to stay, the atmosphere of "The Blue Peter Tavern," makes him decide to go, and the picture Dorothy Minto draws of his future life of future visits to her, make him decide to return to dressing the Christmas tree with his wife. By the time this happens, in spite of the ability of a very able cast, you are inclined to say rule things about all this indecision, and to regret the waste of time spent in so much talk over masculine and feminine traits.

TWO SCHOOLS WILL RECEIVE RECORDS ON "SPORTSMANSHIP"

To celebrate Armistice Day, members of the Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.D.E., will, on Friday afternoon, present to the school of their adoption, the Girls' Central, a record of the Prince of Wales speech on "Sportsmanship." A similar gift will also be made by them to the Spring Ridge School. The regent, Mrs. Catterall, will make the presentation, and the ceremony will take place at the Spring Ridge

School at 1:30, and at the Girls' Central School at 2:30. All members are asked to attend.

At a meeting of the Chapter, held on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Porter, Dallas Road, a vote of thanks was passed to Dean Quinlan who gave a lecture on his impressions of England at St. Mary's Hall, when the proceeds were kindly donated to the chapter to assist a fund which has been formed to aid a young student in secondary education. The student recently sustained a fractured arm, and in order that he may continue his studies, the Chapter has advanced him the sum of $10 a month until mid-summer. The sum of $20 will be paid to him for October and November.

Mrs. H. L. Pocock, convener of the Tubercular Ward work, announced that the weekly teas had been served to the patients, while at Halloween a special visit and entertainment had been arranged by the Chapter.

Arrangements were made in connection with the big bazaar which will take place next Saturday at 1423 Douglas Street, and for which the members have been working most energetically for some time past.

Members will assist in decorating Alexandra Hospital for the Armistice dance. Following the business meeting tea and refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Porter.

CHINAMAN USED DEAD BROTHER'S CARD

Violator of Immigration Laws Will Have to Spend Six Months in Jail

A little romance surrounded the attempt of Chu Tong Gang to secure a landing in this country on his arrival from China by the steamship Achilles. This, however, did not prevent his conviction on a charge of attempt to defraud, and he was sentenced to six months in jail, with an order for deportation on the expiry of the term. According to the story elicited from the accused, he was a farmer who cultivated about ten acres of rice land. He had never before leaving for Canada left his native village. A brother, Chu Tong Mow, who was about forty-six years of age, seven years older than the accused, had lived for about twenty years in this country, and had evidently prospered. A nephew also lived in Nanaimo. About March of this year, the brother and the nephew made a return trip to their native land. The nephew is still there, and the brother, who left on March 13, lived only long enough to reach China, where he died.

The widow then advised the accused to come to Canada, and gave him the identification ticket that the Immigration Department issues to Chinamen leaving here for the Orient, and suggested that, armed with this, he could enter Canada. He says he borrowed the money to pay his passage, and came on without any money.

Mr. J. B. Clearbush, who represented the Department of Immigration, pressed for a term of six months, in order to create a deterrent to Chinamen attempting this method of getting in. The man was not represented by counsel.

DROPS PROSECUTION AGAINST FRUIT MAN

Of interest to Spanish fruit men will be the announcement from Vancouver that proceedings against Mutual, Limited, and George H. Snow, the manager of the company, have been withdrawn owing to lack of prosecution of the charges. "This company has been the Mainland agent of the Spanish Fruit Growers. The prosecution says:

"Failure of Commissioner Lewis Duncan, who conducted the probe into the sale of tomatoes for the Dominion Government, to produce witnesses to substantiate charges laid in the police court against the Mutual (Vancouver) Limited and George H. Snow as manager of the concern, resulted in the withdrawal of three charges of theft against the company, while another, upon which evidence has been taken, was dismissed. The charge of conspiracy against Mr. Snow was also withdrawn.

"In suggesting the withdrawal of the charges, the prosecution stated that they arose out of allegations which followed the Duncan probe, but the commissioner had not been able to furnish the evidence requisite to the prosecution."

QUADRA CASE MAY SOON BE CLEARED

OLD GRAND JURY TO CONTINUE RUN INVESTIGATIONS

Hope is Entertained That Victoria Liquor Carrier's Case Will Be Finished Before Christmas

Advice from San Francisco yesterday gave further hope of the clearing up of the Quadra case by the July-November grand jury before Christmas. The San Francisco run investigation has taken a new turn since Chief of Police O'Brien admits that Sergeant Frank Teutenberg, of the Inglefield police station, is under investigation by federal authorities.

The Investigation

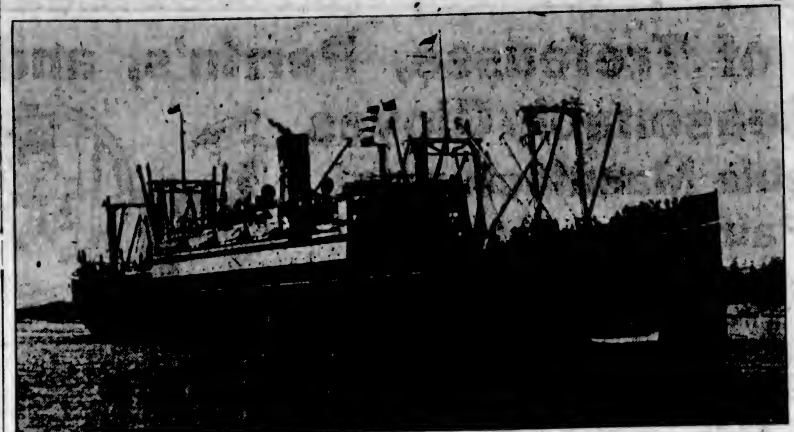

When United States Attorney Carr asked Federal Judge Partridge to continue in session the July-to-November grand jury, he announced that four matters demanded the jury's attention. Carr asked, it was learned yesterday, that the court consider the following matters: Investigation of the rum runner Giulia; investigation of the Chinatown police graft prohibition investigation; and the case of Joseph Temperini, a confessed bootlegger, living at 354 Orinda Street.

Jury to Continue Quiz

Before Judge Partridge there were summoned forty-nine San Francisco and bay cities citizens, twenty-three of whom made up the November-to-March federal grand jury. At the same time the July-to-November jury, with Perry Eys as its foreman, still is functioning. The latter jury, Federal Attorney Carr said, still is considering various phases of the San Francisco bootlegger-graft inquiry. Notable in the investigation are the cases of the Quadra, alleged rum runner, seized off the Paratons by the coastguard cutter Shawnee; the Giulia, a rum runner, said to have been scuttled at sea, and in which John B. De Maria, North Beach politician and man about town, and twenty-two others figure; the Chinatown police-graft scandal, which is said to involve several policemen; and the latter now denied by the federal authorities, and the Temperini case.

After the new jury is sworn before Judge Partridge, the inquisitorial body will probably meet today and on Thursday of each week, the day now occupied up the outgoing jury.

AUSTRALIA SAILS TODAY FOR ORIENT

TAKING UNUSUAL LARGE LIST FOR TIME OF YEAR

Many Prominent Passengers on Board, Including Mr. G. Waterhouse, of British Corporation

When the Canadian Pacific Empress of Australia sails for the Orient tonight she will take out a list of over 400 passengers. This is considered a large one, as the custom is generally very light.

To be exact there will be 450 passengers on board the liner altogether, many of whom will embark here. A number of well-known people included.

Mr. George W. Waterhouse, of the British Chinese Corporation, is proceeding to China to act in an advisory capacity in the management of Chinese railways. An agreement was recently concluded between the Ministry of Communications and the British and Chinese Corporation and sanctioned by the High Court in London, referring to the profits of the Shanghai-Nanking railway.

Other prominent passengers on board the liner include: Colonel M. H. Loman, of Shanghai, who arrived here on holiday on the Empress of Russia six weeks ago, is sailing for home; Mr. A. E. Thompson, of Reuters, Limited, London; Mr. R. A. Lunkey, of Seattle, who is on a business trip; and Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Sutton, of Los Angeles, who are out to tour the Orient.

The liner is taking out a capacity cargo, including a big shipment of British Columbia apples and lumber. There are nearly 4,000 tons of cargo on board altogether.

This week-end will see another business session along Victoria's waterfront. Nine vessels are due here from now until Monday. The Toyama Maru, of the N.Y.K. line, is sailing at 12 o'clock last night, while the President Jefferson was due at 8 o'clock this morning. The Blue Pheasant Line, Achilles, will sail outboard for the Orient at noon, today, followed by the Empress of Australia tonight. At 8 o'clock the Ruth Alexander will arrive from California.

The liner is taking out a capacity cargo, including a big shipment of British Columbia apples and lumber. There are nearly 4,000 tons of cargo on board altogether.

The Presbyterian mission boat, Columbia, is here this morning from a West Coast mission tour. The Ladies' Auxiliary and other church organizations will visit the vessel while here.

Owing to a slight mishap on her West Coast trip, the C.P.R. Princess Maquinna will be hauled out at the V.M.D. Friday night to have her hull inspected. The vessel, grounded at the bottom while on her southward trip.

Bank Teller Not Guilty SHANAVON, Sask., Nov. 5.—Alme Courtenay, former teller of the Bank of Montreal, of Montreal, charged with the theft of $2,800 from the bank last May, was found not guilty in King's Bench at Assize after a session of over six hours by the jury.

Along the Waterfront

Yarrow's Limited has added another important piece of equipment to its plant at Esquimalt. They have built what is known to shipbuilders as "shear legs." It will be of great value to the yard in lifting and repairing of boilers. The new equipment has been installed on their outfitting wharf and is stationary. A steam winch on the wharf operates the 100-foot arm, which is made of well-weathered Douglas fir.

OBJECT TO RICE RATE INCREASE

HIGHER RATES WOULD INJURE VANCOUVER MILLERS

Competition From South Is Strong, and Railway Board Is Asked to Take Up Matter

VANCOUVER, Nov. 5.—Objections to the recent increase of the rates on cleaned rice from Vancouver to Seattle points was made at the session of the Railway Commission here today. The Commissioners announced that the rate submitted would be referred to the Commissioners who heard evidence here last June on the question of rice rate.

A. E. Mason, manager of the Imperial Milling & Grain Company, stated that the rice milling industry originally started in Montreal, and that for years the companies there practically controlled the business. The construction of continental railways, the opening of the Panama Canal and the milling of rice in Vancouver had hurt Montreal's business. Montreal and Vancouver millers both suffered from the competition of southern millers, but Montreal felt the competition most because of that harbor being closed in the winter. He submitted much data in support of objections to the increase in rates from Vancouver to the Prairies.

Dr. Garvin, manager of Martin & Robertson, Limited, stated that the Vancouver millers of rice were slowly eliminating the competition of southern mills in the Canadian Middle West.

W. B. Lanning, chief traffic manager of the C.P.R., stated that the railway company had been willing to leave the rates undisturbed, but that the Montreal millers had made an application to have the rates changed. The C.P.R. naturally wanted to encourage the business of milling rice here and shipping it East.

The work was finished yesterday. Placed during the beginning of last summer, the Dominion Government experimented with the William Case to see if it was possible to divert the strong current that passes across the ferry slip and makes landing difficult for ferries docking there.

The experiments proved a success with the result that the William Case has been sunk and the current diverted so that next year the three motor ferries docking there will encounter no difficulties.

Approximately $3,000 was paid for the William Case by the Dominion Government, so that the famous career of the well-known auxiliary schooner has come to an end. During her last days she was used as a cannery scow, but for some years was tied up at the Wharf Street docks. It is said that during the war the C.P.R. was offered some $25,000 for the vessel, but did not sell it, hoping for a higher offer.
